Charles' K. O. of Lesnevich Leaves N.Y. Ring Bosses Cold

'Champ' Charles
Ready To Meet
Any Challenger

Despite the fact that Ezzard Charles, NBA heavyweight champion of the world, beat Gus Lesnevich into retirement Wednesday night, and there is no one in sight who appears to be able to turn the trick on Charles, the New York Athletic Commission won't recognize the NBA king as champion.

The commission, headed by Col. Eddie Egan and not a part of the NBA, still says the ebony-skinned champ must beat Savold or some other outstanding contender before it, or the British Board of Boxing Control, will recognize him as top man.

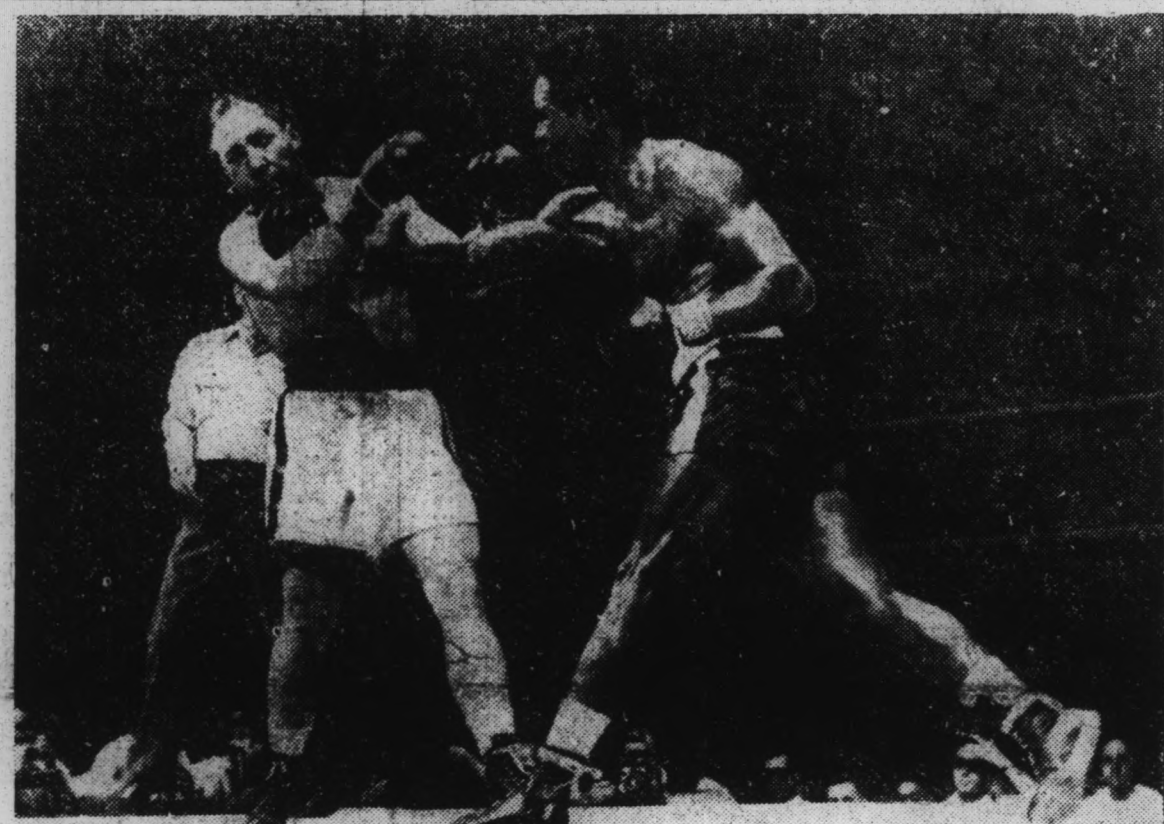

Fresh from his wham-bang victory over Lesnevich, the Cincinnati belter Thursday was anxious to "go again" against anyone. He said he would defend his title against Savold "or any other man in the world."

He blasted Lesnevich into a seven-round TKO, and retirement before a slim crowd of 16,630 in humid Yankee Stadium.

The former light heavyweight champion of the world, who wouldn't have any part of his Wednesday night fight while he held the light heavy crown, decided he "couldn't go on" and had referee Ruby Goldstein called over at the end of the seventh.

Peering from almost-closed, battered eyes which were framed in bleeding cuts and welts, the Cliffside Park, N. J. aspirant for the crown sat on a stool as his trainer rang down the curtain.

Lesnevich Retires
Immediately following the battle Lesnevich, in his dressing room, announced that he was retiring. Charles, who had won the title only 49 days prior to this week's fight, was scheduled to fight Steve Davis, 427 Toledo st., suffer-

New KKK Head Asserts White Supremacy Aim

ATLANTA, Ga. (Special)—"A bigger and better Ku Klux Klan that can win the fight for white supremacy and give full protection to white womanhood," was the solemn pledge given by Dr. Samuel Green following his election as Imperial Wizard of the Association of Georgia Klans last Sunday.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (Special)—The extremes of life, measured in the interminable spread between hope and despair crashed like a meteor in the sky from Indiana's worst motor bus accident early Wednesday morning on Indiana Highway 37, five miles north of here.

Two Indianapolis Negroes, passengers on the Great Lakes Greyhound bus traveling from Indianapolis to Evansville, provided the sharp contrasts that may spring from the flow of life in an unexpected moment.

Mrs. Georgia Tandy, 50, 1430 Cornell avenue, on her way to Hopkinsville, Ky., for a two-week vacation during which she planned to enjoy life with relatives there, was killed in the crash of the bus that brought death to 15 and injuries to 12 of the 29 persons in the bus.

Edgar Davis, 45, Indianapolis taxi driver on his way to face the incidence of death that made necessary the funeral of his brother at Evansville, Ind., not only escaped death but proved himself a hero by helping 9 persons imprisoned in the flaming bus escape.

Negro is Hero

Davis, a driver for the Civic Services Taxicab company in Indianapolis told a simple but noble story of the tragedy from his hospital bed here Wednesday afternoon.

"I was on my way to bury my brother, Cornelius, and was sitting in the bus about four seats from the rear, half asleep.

"The first thing I knew, the bus was on its side, with angry flames shooting lethal fingers all around.

"I got busy thinking and doing, remaining unexcited and not losing my head.

"I crawled to the back of the bus and kicked out a window. I went out and then helped nine others to come out after me. I started back into the bus to help others too stunned or crippled to walk, but the intense heat of the

Crippled Young Mother Hurls Child to Death

PHILADELPHIA (ANP)—West Philadelphia was shocked early Sunday morning when news spread that a 23-year-old unmarried cripple girl, in a desperate attempt to hide the birth of a son from her parents downstairs, wrapped the infant in newspapers and hurled him two stories into the concrete alleyway behind her home.

He was killed instantly. The discovery was made Sunday morning when Mrs. Gladys Kearn, next door neighbor, looked out back and saw the baby lying in her own backyard near a pool of blood. Mrs. Kearn called police. Detectives Samuel Powell and Cecil Joyner, veteran Negro officers of the famous Fifth Detective division, were assigned to the case. At the time of their appearance, there was no knowledge of where the infant had come from.

Later, on questioning neighbors, the officers discovered that a young woman had been ill at a house in the same block and that she had not been seen for some time. The house was visited and the father of the young woman, Arthur Avery, said that his daughter, Doris, 23, who occupied an upstairs room, had been sick.

Doris was found in bed by the officers. She readily admitted having given birth to the baby and also said that she feared her parents' reactions to the matter

Young Woman Dies In Head-on Auto Collision

A Marion County accident claimed the life of a young Indianapolis housewife Sunday.

Mrs. Rosa Lee Walker, age 24, 150 Geisendorff st., was killed instantly when the car in which she was riding collided head-on with another car on Road 27 about two miles north of Indianapolis.

Clowns, Phila. Stars to Play for Xmas Charity

The Recorder Charities Inc. will sponsor the Indianapolis Clowns and Philadelphia Stars in a benefit baseball double-header Sunday, August 21, at Victory Field.

The proceeds of the games will go to the Goodfellows Christmas Cheer Fund, with which the organization aids needy families and individuals around Christmas.

Despite the fact that we are just past the mid-summer mark, Christmas is only about four months in the future. And from all indications more aid will be needed this year than ever before.

Anticipating this added need, the Recorder Charities is launching an all-out drive for funds.

A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand and offer their admission as a contribution to the

Bloodthirsty "Butchers" Send 5 to Hospital

Some local people still had no regard for one another last week as police reports reveal several people were treated at General hospital for knife wounds, over the weekend.

Things got under way early Saturday evening when police were called to a tavern in the 800 block of Indiana avenue.

On arrival, the officers found Steve Davis, 427 Toledo st., suffering from razor wounds about his head and chest.

He had got the worst end of an argument with Sarah Granger, 144 Geisendorff st., a waitress in the tavern, according to reports.

After he allegedly threw a stool at her, she went to the rear of the tavern, got her razor and came back swinging.

Davis was sent to General Hos-

Schermer, director of the Detroit Mayor's Interracial Committee, made the investigation for the St. Louis Council on Human Relations. His report was made public last Monday.

At least twelve persons were injured seriously enough to require hospital treatment as a result of the fighting that broke out after the Director of Public Welfare ordered admission of colored persons to the city's swimming pools.

Schermer assessed the blame not upon what the persons accused had done but upon what they had failed to do. He implied that community leadership had failed to prepare St. Louisans for adjustments which changing populations, economic and social conditions are bringing about in the

The taverns seem to have it as the siren rang at a tavern at 25th st. and Marindale ave., about 8:30 p. m. A man had slashed a woman.

A squad of officers went into the tavern and found Mrs. Laverne Woods, age 27, 2525 Eastern ave., with cuts on her left breast, left side, and stab wounds in her left side. She was taken to General Hospital in serious condition.

Offensive Pepper allegedly inflicted the wounds. Police had not apprehended him early this week.

On a call to 818 So. Kenwood ave., officers allegedly found Varador Luckett, age 22, of that address, with a stab wound in his throat.

His wife, Mrs. Marie Luckett stabbed him, it is reported. They allegedly were arguing over another woman.

William Russell, age 56, 804 W. North st., was sent to General hospital early Sunday morning when police found him lying on the sidewalk in the 400 block of Blake st., suffering a deep stab wound in the back of his neck.

Ernest Ross, age 17, 1456 Kapes st., was cut by Robert Ware, butcher, at a grocery in the 1900 block of Howard st., when Ware rushed at him with a butcher knife.

Ware told police he forgot he had the knife in his hand when he lunged at Ross.

He said Ross had been peering through a crack into the ladies' rest room. Ross upon refusing to leave when asked, lunged at the youth, Ware said.

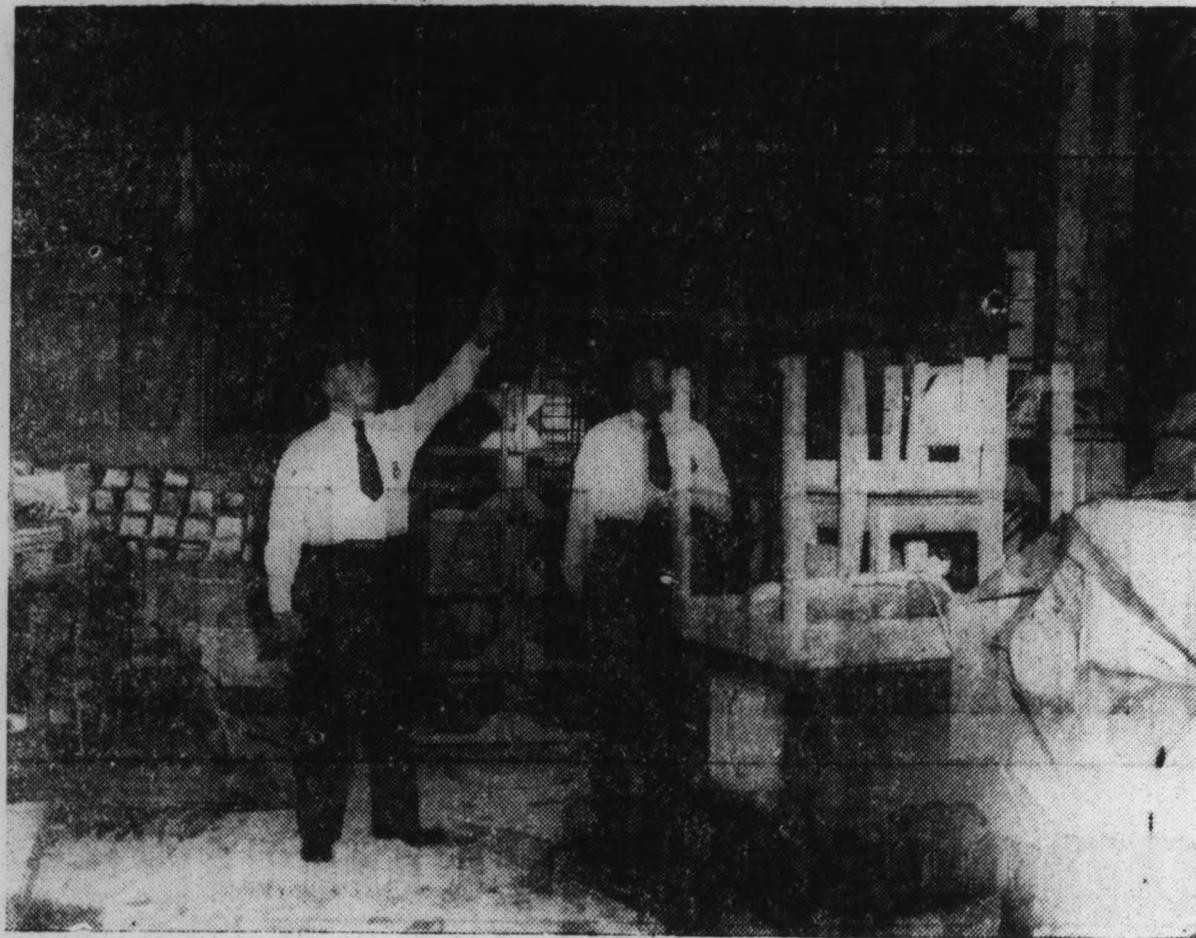

Ross was treated at General hospital for wounds in his left hand and leg.

Woman Who Missed Is Now Missing

"Lay that pistol down, babe—What're you trying to do, kill me?" This command and question would have been a little late for Wallace Holman to ask last Saturday morning when he realized he was being fired upon by Emma King, if Mrs. King was a better shot than she apparently is.

Holman, who lives at 432 Patterson st., told police Mrs. King had fired five shots at him as he moved his back lawn. He said the woman, who also lives at the Patterson street address, missed all the shots, and left hurriedly.

However, Mrs. Mae Wilburn, who lives around the corner at 1007 W. Michigan st., said one of the bullets fired from Mrs. King's gun lodged in the door of her refrigerator.

FIRE COSTS $7,000: Fire Inspectors Felix Lyles, left, and Andrew Johnson estimate the damages to Pope's Radio and Appliances Shop, 429 Indiana Ave., at more than $7,000. Police picked up a man and questioned him in connection with the fire early this week, but no charges were filed.

affair, showed more aggression and savagery than he exhibited in his title duel with Jersey Joe Walcott in Chicago Stadium.

Obviously out to prove that he is definitely the best, he pounced on his challenger at the opening going and didn't relent until the sixth round when Lesnevich took over. Then he was right back in the seventh and rocked his opponent into bloody submission.

There were no knockdowns during the scheduled 15-round bout but the swarthy Charles shook and staggered the Russian descendant in every round but the sixth.

When his punishment was finally halted, the challenger was bleeding from gashes above and below his right eye and from a gash on his left cheek.

The Charles Technique

Charles opened in the initial heat with left jabs and hooks to his opponent's head. He rocked him with a one-two and rolled with a hard right to his chin.

from Lesnevich in the second but unleashed a terrific body attack and worked upward to the challenger's head. After scoring with a series of lefts and rights Charles staggered his older opponent as he moved from the ropes.

A mouse was sprouting from Lesnevich's right eye as the third began and when the round was over it was rising fast.

Charles looked as though he might finish the former light heavyweight king in the fourth but let him slip from the anvil after scoring with the big right hammer a number of times.

The fifth was all Charles, and Lesnevich began to bleed.

However, Lesnevich put on a little show of his own in the sixth. He opened with a smashing right to Ezzard's jaw that lifted him from the floor and followed Charles the rest of the heat, pounding him with his devastating right.

It was curtains for the 34-year-old challenger in the seventh though. Charles showed all his blood thirsty fury and shelled the old man till the gong sounded.

Savoldi still is matched tentatively to meet Bruce Woodcock of England in London in October. If the match is called off, as Woodcock is seeking Charles may meet Savoldi in Madison Square Garden in October or November.

GEORGIA SHERIFF SAVES INNOCENT NEGRO FROM MOB NASHVILLE, Ga. (AP) — An innocent Negro was saved from an angry mob of more than 1,500 whites last week when a sheriff defended him. Sheriff N. N. Hughes took the victim from the rioters after they had snatched him from his home.

Mobsters, the sheriff said, believed that the captive could lead them to the guilty person who allegedly attacked a 40-year-old farm woman while her husband took their children to Sunday school.

The law officer called in the state troopers to save the mob victim.

According to police, the girls were chased down a street on the night of July 14, by the three men. The three, Tommie Johnson, Raymond McClendon, and Robert Edward Lee Miller, then wrote threatening notes to themselves to "get out of town," hoping that relatives would provide them with fire drove me back.

"Some of us walked down the road to a farm house, where they called an ambulance. I went back to the road where the ambulance picked me up."

The death-defying cab driver suffered serious injuries in this back and will be kept under observation, Bloomington hospital surgeons said Thursday.

Davis, until a short time ago had lived with relatives at 1425½ N. West street in the Hoosier capital, and had been a cab driver for 11 years.

His act of heroism excited the utmost praise from the bus company officials, state officials who are investigating, newsmen, radio commentators and the general public.

Cause a Mystery

The bus driver, Wayne Cranmer, 25, 1112 Hoyt avenue, Indianapolis, said 29 persons were aboard. Two were uninjured.

Cranmer, burned seriously, said he had made a turn on the snake highway at a fair speed when "something went wrong," making it impossible for him to operate the steering gear as the big bus veered toward a concrete bridge.

Crashing into the concrete abutment and tearing out a chunk the size of a barn, the vehicle, its right front wheel sheared off, skidded like a monster down the road 150 feet, trailing flames, spun completely around, headed back toward the bridge and came to a stop after turning over on its side. Many never were able to escape.

Inferno of Death

Immediately it became a roaring, mighty blow torch, its exploding gas tank spewing flaming death over all.

Bloomington, narrowly averted an accident as it rushed headlong to the scene.

At the Armory, here, bodies removed were almost totally beyond identification. In many cases the charred skeleton remains held forever secret identification as to sex or otherwise.

Johnson told police that "we need some kind of organization to stop these girls. We ought to whip them." They accused the girls of misconduct.

Both men were held under $300 bond each, but McClendon was released after he had posted his bond. A fourth member, a minor, was turned over to juvenile authorities. Police are looking for two other men involved in the incident.

Others talked of the exhibition as a "prime" in underones. However, when Capt. Rudolph Skaggs, the company's top brass showed, everything cooled off, except the 90 degree rays of the sun which was hanging almost directly overhead.

The captain explained to us guests that the company had used their "best stuff" at the Division's review before Gov. Henry F. Schraker and other state officials, earlier in the day. Then too, most of the soldiers had week-end passes and were anxious to get started for home. So they didn't have any time to "fool around" with newspapermen. When the Recorder finally finished shooting pictures of the group in ranks the sergeant dismissed the outfit and all the men that had passes whooped it up and headed for their barracks. Shortly afterwards some began to return and start for the main gate, but as they passed Captain Skaggs their glee was temporarily wound out as the captain said in a gentle but stern command, "I'll expect you back by 6 A. M. in the morning." Then they were off.

On Two Week Maneuvers
The all-Negro company, which numbers 52, arrived at Camp Atterbury early last Sunday morning with the rest of the 38th Division, for a two-week encampment. The entire Division, a total of 6,000 men, which traveled to camp from 100 armories throughout the state in 900 vehicles, was to be put through 15 days of field training.

The troops, under command of Brig. Gen. Jesse E. McIntosh, 1st, began training at 7:30 A.M. Monday of last week.

The first day at camp was spent in unloading equipment, cleaning barracks and readying the camp in preparation for their brief stay. This year's training emphasized small unit actions.

The entire division was to spend three days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, in the Atterbury "backwoods."

Under simulated combat conditions, the troops were to act as "real soldiers" under fire. The slept in tents, cooked on field ranges and took part in platoon maneuvers.

Could Fight In 30 Days
The big brass asked me this morning how long it would take me to ready my company for combat if an emergency presented itself. Capt. Skaggs began as we started on a tour of his company's quarters.

"I told him we could be ready in 30 days," he continued in a confident tone and with a proud beam on his face.

"In fact," he said, "I'd take these boys anywhere now."

The group had massed with the 11th Medical Battalion Saturday morning, and marched in the review at the camp's parade grounds.

A member of the regular Army inspection group, which reviewed the division, said the 915 was "the company" on that post, according to Capt. Skaggs.

The company, the youngest of the post, was activated in December, last year. This was the first encampment for every one of its members.

The men are trained to be ambulance drivers. Their chief duty is to evacuate wounded and injured members of the 38th Division and 38th Division Headquarters Special Troops.

They are trained to move medical installations forward in support of front line troops, and to set up battalion aid stations. Also included is tactical training.

Cited For Efficiency
Ambulance Team 6, Joseph Johnson and Joe Kimbrow, answered a call last Wednesday. An ambulance was needed about three miles from their operating station.

The team arrived on the scene to find a man writhing in pain from injuries suffered when a jeep overturned on him. Johnson and Kimbrow, acting as cool as if they'd done it a thousand times, put the injured man on a stretcher and loaded him in the ambulance. Then they were off to the dispensary.

The Indianapolis Recorder, Aug. 13, 1949—3

The whole operation, from their arrival on the scene of the accident to the time they unloaded the man at the dispensary, took only eight minutes.

Every official on the post was commending the team for its brilliant action, according to report. We arrived at the mess hall and were greeted by Sgt. Theodore Young, in charge of operations there.

As we settled down for our first Army dinner, we could not overlook the fact that everything in the hall was as clean as a hound's tooth. The kitchen was spotless.

Enlisted Men Cook
Sgt. Young, a 4 and a half year Regular Army man, was training the men right. However, he does most of the "paper work." He draws the rations, makes the reports and inspects the kitchen and hall.

The men do all the cooking and cleaning-up. From here we went on a search for 1st Lt. Tom Jefferson, second in command of the 915th.

Lt. Jefferson, the only Negro member of the 38th Division staff, trains the officers of the 915 company.

Stopping off at the post headquarters we met Capt. Leo J. Wall, who had only an hour or so ago been assigned to spend the next 24 hours on duty in the office. So he had plenty to say.

As the Recorder photographer readied his flash-gun machine, I walked Col. Leonard E. Webster, chief of staff.

"Received that letter yet?" he questioned Capt. Skaggs. "What letter?" the captain returned.

Then the chief of staff went on to tell Capt. Skaggs that the C.C. was sending him and his men later of commendation for their fine action last Wednesday.

"That was the best we've ever had," the colonel said in reference to Team 6's removal of the injured man.

"The big boys thought a lot of our unit," Capt. Wall chimed in. "Yep, they thought you were darned good."

After learning the whereabouts of Lt. Jefferson we proceeded to the Officers' Quarters where we found him preparing to leave for home and a quiet weekend.

As we returned to 915 headquarters, an ambulance team was just leaving on a call.

His Six Sergeants
Capt. Skaggs, in addition to having a Lieutenant on his staff has six sergeants, including Mess Sgt. Johnson.

The group is headed by Master Sgt. James Johnson. The other five are Charles E. Barnett, Marshall Rush, Charles F. Smith, Robert L. Watson, Eugene White and Albin White.

The unit includes the following First Class Privates: Harold Bratten, Hubert P. Harris, James M. Martin, Emmet McGee, Layman J. Moore, John Stubbs, Leslie W. Taylor and Albert White.

Gerald E. Valentine, James H. Valentine and Robert L. Webster. Facilities For Play
Capt. Skaggs is an Army veteran of five years service. Attached to Fort Battalion 334, he served as Captain in the Aleutian Islands and Kiska.

Five pool exchanges, two theatres and two swimming pools are open during the camp period. There have been two dances for enlisted men.

Facilities for almost all other forms of recreation are on the post.

There is a shortage of unskilled hospital workers throughout the United Kingdom, the official revealed.

HUB CAP THIEF LEAVES "KITTY" OWNER IN GRIEF

Police have no suspects as to who stole the hub caps from Burtis Greer's car but they are convinced the thief was someone "who knows his hub caps." Greer had his shiny 1947 Cadillac parked in front of his home at 726 N. Senate ave. Early Saturday morning he went out, apparently to check, and found some one had stripped the car of its hub caps—nothing but its hub caps. But Greer said that was enough, for the caps cost him ten bucks each.

.. Social Scene ..

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

Every so often the small fry take over the first position in this little column. . . . Such is the case this week, when I note that a whole bunch of kids helped little FREDERICK H. EVANS III to celebrate his sixth birthday at a yard party last Saturday.

The children enjoyed themselves on the playground, having a field day on the swings, seesaw, and sliding board, which Freddy's parents had given him as a birthday present. . . . They also played monopoly, dominoes, and other "quiet-er" games.

Naturally, the highlight of the party was the moment when Freddy made his wish as he blew out the six candles on the birthday cake. . . .

The party was even dignified by out-of-town guests—they included little JOYCE MOORE, Washington, D. C., niece of Dr. and Mrs. Evans, who was "main hostess," and EARL COOK, Cleveland and Terre Haute, a nephew of the Evanses, who assisted as host.

MIRIAM ANN WHITE, niece of Mrs. MABEL TAYLOR, who came as guest of little KIRBY WILLIAMS (Miriam and her sister, JEAN MARIE WHITE, are visiting their aunt while en route to New York City, to where the family are moving after living in Atlanta, Ga.)

RAYMOND and REBECCA HAYES, Washington, D. C., who were visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE L. HAYES.

Assisting little Miss Moore as "hostesses" were HARRIETTE BLACKBURN, SHEILA SHELTON, and PATRICIA COX.

Other local guests were DONALD CLARK, BARRY WATTS, WALTER and SARAH ANN BLACKBURN, PATRICIA DAN-GERFIELD, WILSON, JUDY BELL, ZENOBIA MIDDLETON, DAVID HUMMONS, ANTON NEISLER, PATRICIA and WILLIAM FONTRY, SANDRA BAKER, PAMELA JO ALLISON, CHARLENE and LOUELLA COX, ALICE and ERSKINE ROBERTS JR.

KIRBY WILLIAMS, JOHN GENTRY JR., LINDA, PATRICIA, and GREGORY SIMMS, STEVIE, JUDY, and BEVERLY TALLEY, PAUL ARLINGTON THOMAS, MILFORD BLACKMAN, GREGORY COWAN, and SIDNEY, MARTIN EARL, CLIFTON, ROBERT, and HARRIET CONN.

Gifts were sent by Mr. and Mrs. FREDERICK H. EVANS SR. and Miss JOSEPHINE EVANS, grandparents and aunt of little Freddy, all of Terre Haute; NORMA and SANDRA MERIWETHER, JIMMIE RUTH ANDERSON, and RHODA and MILLICENT HANLEY.

Adult guests were Messrs. and Mesdames SPURLING CLARK, HARRY WATTS, ERSKINE ROBERTS, and JOHN GENTRY and Mesdames CLEO BLACKBURN, MERLE CRAIG, HORACE BELL, FRANCIS HUMMONS, M. E. NEISLER, WILLIAM FONTRY, JAMES BAKER, WILLIAM ALLISON, JOSEPH C. WILLIAMS, LEON SIMMS, JOHN TALLEY, CLIFTON CONN, E. P. THOMAS, JASON COWAN, NELL BAILEY, and H. N. MIDDLETON and sister, Miss MARGUERITE GOOD-NIGHT.

The adults, of course, are not stagnating—Mrs. WILMA BAUGH HAMILTON, entertained at a luncheon party for Mrs. MARY B. HART, Evansville, last week. . . . Mrs. Hart, a teacher in Evansville, has been attending Butler university this summer, and was leaving for home.

Guests included Mesdames MARY L. HARPER, ESTELLE ROLFORD, NATALIE WOODS, FAYE RODMAN, and GEORGIA MISER and Miss LESLIE G. HENDERSON. . . . Prizes were won by Mesdames Hart, Harper, Rolford and Miser.

Another interesting affair was the luncheon-bridge Mrs. EROY A. HARPER gave recently for her house guest, Mrs. DANIEL H. BROWN. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Brown are residents of Los Angeles, where she is a public school teacher.

Other out-of-town guests were Mesdames RUTH GARDNER SAMS, also of Los Angeles, HOMER WALES, Franklin, and MARY HART, Evansville.

Local guests included Mesdames HOWARD BOWLES, WILLIAM HAMILTON, GEORGE WASHINGTON, JAMES COMPTON, FLORA CROSSEN, REGINALD GIBBS, VIOLA McCREA, and ES-TELLE ROLFORD and the Misses HELEN KENNEDY and LUALICE RAY.

Speaking of out-of-town guests, Dr. CLARRISSA WINBUSH and her husband, LUKENGUS CAREY Lynchburg, Va., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. CLEO BLACKBURN last week, while en route to Kansas City, Mo. to attend the dental convention.

The Blackburn house was rather filled—A cousin, Mrs. MINNIE D. BELL, teacher of home economics in the public school system in Washington, was also their house guest, as was Miss JULIA ANN JOHNSON, formerly on the staff at Flanner House here and now principal of the Cotton Valley school at Tuskegee.

Mr. and Mrs. RAYMOND HAYES, Washington, D. C., also passed through the city while en route to Kansas City for the dental convention. . . . They stopped off to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE L. HAYES.

Still more "dental delegates" passing through were Dr. W. RAGSDALE, South Boston, Va., and Dr. M. MILLER, Farmville, Va., who stopped in our fair city to visit Mr. and Mrs. J. LAWRENCE DUNCAN before going on to Kansas City.

Dr. CHARLES YERGAN, New York City, was week-end guest of Dr. and Mrs. ROBERT W. BRIGGS. . . . Dr. Yergan is now stationed as a first lieutenant at Fort Harrison air base.

Miss IZONA THOMAS is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. GENE WADSWORTH and grandmother, Mrs. LULAH HOGUE, after completing one year's work at the Atlanta University School of Social Work.

In September she will report to Emerson House in Chicago for a six-month period of block field work.

Dr. and Mrs. JOHN NORREL left Monday on their vacation, planning to visit his niece, Mrs. VASHTI McDONALD BRABOY, in Toledo before going to Detroit for the convention of the National Medical Association.

In Buffalo, N. Y. they will visit another niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. HENRY HUMMONS JR.

Their itinerary will also include Niagara Falls and Toronto, Canada. . . . By the way, it'll be Mrs. Norrel's first visit to Canada, and she's pretty anxious to get there. They plan to return in about two weeks.

Mrs. WILLIAM S. HENRY left this week for Detroit for a short ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED: Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Fletcher announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Earline Moore, to Orville Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ashford, 1542 Columbia avenue. The wedding will take place early in the fall.

Mr. Williams, graduate of Crispus Attucks high school, is a former Butler university football and track star.

Cancel Plans For YW Camp; Say Polio Epidemic Feared

Plans for YWCA girls to attend Flat Rock River Camp for a five-day period beginning August 13, have been canceled, according to Mrs. Ruth Bell, director of the camping program for this summer.

Camp plans have been under way since early spring, and this year girls were given opportunities to earn their camp fees by selling greeting cards on a generous commission basis.

Two "Miss Phyllis Wheatley" contestants, Barbara Jean Cannon, first-place winner, and Delores White, second-place winner, were to have received an expense-free trip to camp and half the camp fee for the runner-up.

Several gifts covering camping expenses for girls were presented by YWCA and other club groups and interested individuals.

Flat Rock River Camp, which is the state YWCA's camp located near Shelbyville, proved to be a delightful change for the "seasoned" campers of the YWCA who felt they had exhausted the possibilities of Camp Gunaquat, at Bedford. Last year for the first time, YWCA girls went to Flat Rock.

Plans were originally made to accommodate sixty girls during the camping period, but as reports of the spread of polio grew more and more disturbing, parents seemed less interested in venture. Plans were not abandoned completely, however, until decisive statements were made by key committee women working indirectly with the camping program.

It was generally felt that while no polio cases had been reported from the immediate vicinity of the camp, it would be unwise to take the risk of exposure to the elusive virus with so young a group. Parents, when notified, seemed in accord with the decision.

Group activities such as hikes to nearby parks and wieners roasts have been tentatively planned to fill the gap left by the cancelled camp program.

State moderators and officers will be honored guests. Also to be heard from are Rev. J. O. Clark, pastor of the church, who will give an address, and Rev. C. Henry Bell, state moderator, who will introduce the officers.

Mrs. Geneva Bledsoe is program director.

St. Philip's Community Center Fences Yard; Has Playground

The boys and girls of St. Philip's community center, along with the director, Mrs. Maudele B. Hampton, are proud people this week.

They have succeeded in erecting a fence around the backyard of the church building. For years, the children had kept a wishful eye on the backyard of the church, imagining it from time to time as scene of wieners roasts during the summer or of various activities such as volley-ball, horseshoe pitching, croquet and other outdoor games which do not demand too much space.

The outdoor space is really a community project, having been made possible through the generous contributions of interested friends and businessmen of the neighborhood.

Among those listed as contributors to the project are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nave, Mesdames Effie LeMonde, Florence Norton, Julia Davenport, Vivian Benedict, Myrtle Bethel, Dora Pryor, Louise Jones, Beulah Harding, Willa P. Jones, Lillian LeMon, Helen Perkins, Cecil Stewart.

Mabel Swanagan, Lillian Courtney, Ada Timberlake, Mattie Butcher, Hazel Keeble, Frances Bowles, Merle Craig, Maudele Hampton, Emma Moore, and Harlan Dodson.

The Misses Pearl Cowherd, Georgianna Ellison, Mildred Watson, Emily Garrett, Ella Ree Cecil, Odessa Singleton, and Phyllis Waters, Drs. W. W. Stuart, S. A. Funniss, Charleston Cox, H. H. Stoner.

Messrs. Lee Mitchell, Scott Eberhart, Arthur Swanagan, Lyle O. Baker, Richard Hampton Jr., Levi Conn, Claudius Hackett, Flinn Moses, Richard Henderson, Joseph Washington, Elbert Hartwell, Henry Pierson, Homer Carr, and Lionel F. Artis.

And the Martin Seigel grocery, Jack's Liquor store, Frantz Drug store, Dobrowitz Liquor store, Pope's Radio shop, Men's Union Bible Class, and St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

St. Philip's community center is located in the basement of St. Philip's Church, and offers ping-pong, pool, and other interest group functions. Young people between the ages of 14 and 19 are eligible for membership in the Leisuretime club, part of the center and member of the Indianapolis Teen Council.

GUEST SPEAKER: Mrs. Lula J. Dunn, well-known local business woman, will be guest speaker when the State Business Women's Council of the National Baptist Woman's Auxiliary holds a mass meeting Sunday afternoon at 3 in New Bethel Baptist Church.

State moderators and officers will be honored guests. Also to be heard from are Rev. J. O. Clark, pastor of the church, who will give an address, and Rev. C. Henry Bell, state moderator, who will introduce the officers.

Mrs. Geneva Bledsoe is program director.

The time is at hand for strong men and women to prove that Christianity is still able to give the answers to the problems that beset the world. This is true all over the world, but most especially in America.

The challenge of Communism calls for strong Christians to combat the dangerous doctrine of these enemies of the Cross. We must be strong in mind to recognize their propaganda, strong in character to resist their persistence, strong in faith to overcome their power and influence.

I note that a theatrical company of American Negroes will tour the Scandinavian countries next month to offset the Communistic elements among our group. This good-will tour was arranged by the Norwegian Embassy and Howard University.

The group is certainly important, but how much more would America gain in world esteem by living up to the principles of Christianity she boasts of so loudly!

For those of you who can't get away to take a vacation, there are books of interesting places and things to see right here in Indianapolis. How many of you have been to the top of the Soldiers and Sailors Monument?

I am often asked, when out of the city, about this wonderful monument, the third highest shaft in the country, 284 1/2 feet high, erected in 1917 by the city of Washington Monument and the Sam Houston Memorial in Texas.

Another interesting place is Christ Church, on the northeast corner of Monument Circle, considered the finest church in Indiana. This little church, founded on July 18, 1837 by thirty settlers of the Episcopal Church, was formed into a parish, with the cornerstone-laying in 1938.

I could go on and on, but space will not permit. But if you'll just sit down and think, I'm sure you can think of many places to visit, and you can have a swell vacation right here in Indianapolis.

Vacationing in our fair city is Mrs. Mattie B. Mitchell, Atlanta, Ga., who is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Cora Johnson Wilson, 1921 Columbia avenue.

Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today!

George Ferguson, owner of the Hotel Ferguson, bought his hotel license back in June, three months before his old license expired, but forgot to put it up when the right time came.

Yes, he had to "take a ride" before I was able to locate the license in the files. I repeat: Don't put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today!

Marion A. T. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, 1427 Columbia avenue, has taken over a new post in the post office here, as clerk. He had practiced medicine for some time after completing school. He is married, and the couple have a lovely girl.

The committee on the state junior missionary society met last Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Helen Beeler, 336 West 29th street, with the state president, Mrs. Esther Lynch, in charge. The meeting was very inspiring, with Mesdames Anna Washington

Peacetime Charity Club Has Open Air Style Show, Movies

A very large crowd enjoyed the open air movies, fashion parade, and garden party held Thursday evening, July 28, at the home of Mrs. Margaret R. Shackelford, 921 North West street, by the Original Peace Time Charity Club, Inc.

Herman P. Warmack, retired postal employee, was master of ceremonies, introducing the models and describing their attire.

Assisting as models were Miss Naomi Butler, New York City, who was house guest of Mrs. Sarah Berryman, 921 1/2 North West street; Mrs. Aileen Dodson, Mrs. Marguerite Ferguson, Mrs. Alma Mosley, and Beatrice Yeakey.

Mesdames Mosley and Yeakey also modeled new hair styles created by Mesdames Gladys Minor and Pauline Anderson.

A feature of the program was a manless bridal party, with Mrs. Mary Robinson acting as the "bride." Her "attendants" were Mrs. Marguerite Ferguson and Miss Gene Audrey Edwards.

Highlighting the show was little five-year-old Delores Sleet, who was a "Tom Thumb" bride.

Modeling furs were Mesdames William Elliott, Gladys Ransom, Alma Mosley, Marguerite Ferguson, and Aileen Dodson.

Committee members responsible for the success of the fair were Mesdames Orbie Pierson, chairman of refreshments; Ada Dickerson, and Lillian Ridley.

The affair was given for benefit of the club's scholarship fund. Two young ladies who have received scholarships through the club will return to college in September, one to John Herron Art Institute to study commercial art.

October 1 Given As Date Of American Festival of Music

CHICAGO—The 10th consecutive presentation of the gigantic American Music Festival will be held at the Chicago Stadium, 1800 West Madison street, on Saturday night, October 1st. One of the most profound efforts to create deeper interracial unity and promote public morale was the Festival's idea, founded by W. Louis Davis in 1940, and since grown into one of the largest institutions yet known to the musical universe.

In previous years the Festival has been held in Comiskey ball park during July, but because of the city-wide participation of Chicago high schools, with the cooperation of the music department of the board of education, the date has been moved up to October 1st and, for the first time, it will be held indoors at the beautiful Chicago Stadium.

The Mid-City Charities, a non-profit corporation formed with the hope of presenting many events annually for the benefit of Chicago's worthy charitable organizations, is the sole sponsor of this year's event.

The festival has received complete endorsements from the White House since its inception in 1940 and the letter of endorsement from President Truman, dated May 3, 1949, states in part "The love of music is a tie that unites people of many different backgrounds. In a world where differences of racial origin, of nationality and of language too often divide men from one another, music draws them closer."

The festival has also received blessings and endorsements from Governor Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois and the Honorable Martin H. Kennedy, mayor of Chicago, as well as many other civic organizations and distinguished citizens from virtually every corner of the nation.

The 10th Festival presentation is expected to surpass all previous events by bringing to Chicago some of the greatest artists of this generation. In the nine years that the Festival has been presented in Chicago, many of the nation's outstanding concert artists, movie stars, musicians, and choral groups have graced its platform. Among some have been Roland Hayes, Anne Brown, Paul Muni, Canada Lee, Don Ameche, Todd Duncan, Ella Fitzgerald, Pat O'Brien, Joe Louis, Eddy "Rochester" Anderson, Lionel Hampton, and hundreds of others of equal prominence.

Officers and committee members of the sponsoring group are John D. Chamberlin, president; Arthur W. Sewell, vice-president; Jack L. Cooper, secretary-treasurer; James E. Stamps, B. B. Church, Sydney F. Brown, Novella T. Davis, Marva Louis and W. Louis Davis.

The sponsors wish it known further that the program is interracial in scope, and peoples of all races, nationalities, and religions are invited to attend, and that the ever-growing support of the community and city-wide organizations, plus the unrelenting help of the professional artists of wide renown will be the basis on which the American Music Festival's acknowledgment of being "the world's greatest interracial institution" rests.

Indiana Opens Dormitories To Colored Women

BLOOMINGTON — Segregation has been ended in women's residence halls at Indiana University here, it was learned this week. Reliable informants disclosed that top university officials have opened all the women's residence halls to students regardless of race, color or creed.

In fact, about half a dozen Negro women have already been admitted to dormitories which formerly were for white students only, it was said.

While making that advance that helps move Indiana into the front ranks of U. S. educational institutions, officials of the university were fearful of publicity on the subject. Therefore, it was hard to fill in details of the picture.

There was no doubt, however, that the historic step has been taken.

Followed NAACP Fight

The move came after a long and vigorous campaign by the NAACP and other democracy-minded organizations on the I. U. campus and in Indianapolis.

These liberals argued that there should be no discrimination against groups of citizens in a public, tax-supported institution.

Indiana University has moved steadily to the fore in the race relations field in recent years.

Last year Bill Garrett made the Crimson hardwood squad as the first Negro basketball player in the Big Nine during peace-time conditions, and the only such player at present.

Garrett's appearance on the team and sterling play was seen as striking a body blow at "lily-white" basketball in the Conference.

Meanwhile a steady crusade has gone on year after year to enlarge the area of fair play on the campus itself and in the city of Bloomington.

Disease, Famine, Take Toll Among Africans

LONDON (ANI)—Famine and disease rages, are taking a heavy toll among natives in South and East Africa. This state of affairs has been brought on by the attitude of British white imperialism, which seemingly is bent on the deliberate murder of a race.

In South Africa, conditions in the native reserves are horrible. Infant mortality is nowhere less than 150 per 1,000 and in some areas as high as 600 or 700 per 1,000.

The "white man's disease" as venereal disease is called by the natives, is widespread, due mostly to promiscuous contacts of migrant laborers. Tuberculosis, enteric, leprosy, typhus, plague, malaria, bilharzia are prevalent in large degree.

The crops grown by natives are inadequate to support the population. Although the government knows this, nothing has been done to promiscuous contacts of migrant crops.

Recently, natives of Hyasaland have been suffering severely from famine, although rains have fallen in the area. There is a drought on now which stretches from the Congo to the Cape.

Only 3 GAR Vets Able To Attend Last Meet Here

The Grand Army of the Republic's active contingent dwindled to three this week — one Negro and two white veterans of the Civil War — as time marched on toward Aug. 28, the date of the final encampment to be held here.

Joseph Chovese, age 105, of Pontiac, Mich., the lone surviving Negro member of the GAR, was expected to be among those present at the last roll-call of the "Boys in Blue" who fought to abolish slavery and preserve the nation.

Others expected to be here were Commander-in-Chief Theodore Penland, age 100, of Portland, Ore., and James A. Hard, age 103, of Rochester, N. Y., who plans to fly.

Seventeen of Abraham Lincoln's veterans are still alive, and it was believed earlier that five of them would attend the encampment. The ranks thinned as Charles L. Chappel, age 102, was confined to a hospital after falling from a porch tree at Long Beach, Calif., and Hiram R. Gale, 102, of Seattle, Wash., also was hospitalized.

The first encampment of the Grand Army was held in Indianapolis in 1896.

Pastor, First Baptist Church,

"Good Morning, Everybody. Oh, I'm so glad to see you on time. 'May we pray, O Lord, how excellent is Thy name in all the earth. We behold Thy glory as we do the sun. We pray that others may see it and glorify Thy name. 'Please bless all singers today and may they sing Thy name's honor and glory. AMEN.'"

Our lesson today is a very popular one: "Festivals and Singing."

MOTTO TEXT: O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon His name; make known His deeds among the people, Psalms 105-1.

For fear some one is here who has not read the lesson, let us read it together. Thanks so much, indeed.

We have the giving of thanks, calling upon His name and the demonstration of works.

Giving Thanks

First—it is known that Israel had a hard time coming up through life. Yes, had ups and downs. So as they had an "up" in bringing the Ark of the Covenant up to the house of the Lord, jealousy arose.

And it came to pass as the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord came to the city of David that Michal, the daughter of Saul looking out of the window, saw King David dancing and playing, rejoicing and she despised him in her heart.

We must watch our hearts and not envy other people's success. They pitched their tents and had everyone a loaf of bread, a good piece of flesh and a flagon ing to enjoy the outing will be included.

The kiddies will have all they can eat and drink, he said as he considered staging various games in which the youngsters will compete for prizes by their friends in the community.

As in the past, games will be supervised and staged through the cooperation of members of the city's recreational department.

The Coca-Cola Bottling company will repeat this year their welcome service of furnishing a sound truck to play records for the "gang."

And again the kiddies will be welcome to bring any record favorites they desire played.

It's a sure bet, says Mr. Bailey, that there will be another memorable "Huckle-Bucking" time out, Clermont way—Birdwell's Farm—Monday after next.

Careful supervision of all activities will be given by The Recorder staff and friends as usual.

Contributors announced — this week include:

Dr. F. H. Evans; Frank E. Colman, Grocery; O'Havers Drug Store; Borden's Furnas Ice Cream Company; Canada Dry Ginger Ale Company; Lutz Packing Company; Nehi Beverage Company.

of wine. They had reason to rejoice and sing their Festival songs and play their many instruments of music.

O, give thanks unto the Lord; Sing unto Him. Sing Psalms unto Him, glory ye in His holy name.

They sang out of their hearts as did our fathers during slavery days, thus giving rise to our folklore.

We fix our songs to suit the time and occasion, so on Christmas we hear "Silent Night" and so on.

When we have received so many blessings we should be thankful, knowing that every good and perfect gift cometh down from the Father of Lights in whom there is no variableness neither shadow of turning.

We must be like the one leper among ten that were cleansed, who returned and gave thanks for His blessing while nine went on their way ungrateful.

When we count our many blessings one by one, we will exclaim, "O give thanks unto the Lord for His goodness and kindness and His wonderful works unto the children of men."

Calling upon His Name

Second, place the call upon His name.

This acknowledges Him as Lord and Bishop of our souls. It gets His attention as we humbly bow our knees, making our wants known and requesting Him to accept our thanks.

Call is to seek His face, Ps. 119:2, 3, says, "Blessed are they that keep His testimonies and that seek Him with their whole heart."

Why not seek Him today as your personal Savior?

The Demonstration

Third place: The Demonstration. Make known His wonderful deeds among the people.

This sends us out to "do" the great commission—Go ye into all the world, Preach, Teach and secure believers and BAPTIZE them in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

This duty well done will open the gate of the Lord into which the righteous shall enter. David said, "I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live."

Lift Him up and the stone which the builders rejected will become the head of the corner in the lives of all believers.

Let's pray that our fine singers in the world leave off the jazz and teach the people to sing. O, for a thousand tongues to sing. My great Redeemer's praise; The glory of my God and King The triumph of His grace.

community.

Immediate blame for the disturbances was placed by the investigator on a loosely-organized gang of older white boys and young men ranging in age from 17 to 23 years.

Photographs indicate that these young men "were in the center of several affrays where Negroes were most brutally attacked," the report said. Schermer added, however, that not all attacks were the work of this gang, who "hang around" together, play together and fight together, and several of whom have police records.

"After the rumors of knifings and killings had spread through the park, there were probably as many as 2,000 people who were psychological, if not physical participants in the attacks."

Failure of Leaders

The report said the Division of Parks and Recreation "has no clear-cut statement of policy on the use of facilities," but the administration "seemingly has sought to meet the problem of racial relations by sidestepping, expediency and balancing of pressures."

Schermer wrote that the responsible public officials, confronted with a challenge to the traditional exclusion of colored persons from the pools, "saw no legal basis for continuing the exclusion and said so." Before the decision to end segregation was made, the report said, "there should have been consultation and planning."

Schermer charged the director of public welfare with making a "grievous error" in failing to hold a staff conference, arranging for a thorough review by a number of experienced persons, and planning a long-range program before making his decision.

He pointed out that the commissioner of parks and recreation has held office for eight years and "throughout his administration the division of parks and recreation 'was bolstering and encouraging' the practice of segregation and, in fact, discouraging the tendencies toward intergroup participation."

While the police were "obviously caught off guard and unprepared when violence broke out," the report said, they "did effectively stop the rioting in reasonable time after the crowd got out of control, considering that police were not present in large force when the violence began."

Schermer found no evidence that

WONDER SINGER: Sixteen-year-old CLEOPHUS ROBINSON is creating a sensation throughout the nation as the "wonder boy gospel singer." Aside from making recordings, the youth makes a number of public appearances yearly. He is to be heard at the War Memorial auditorium in Nashville, Tenn., on Aug. 23. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Robinson, formerly of Canton, Miss., who are now making their home in Chicago, Cleophus made his first public appearance at the age of six. (ANI.)

SUPER SALESMAN: Benj. J. Olive of Memphis, who was elected president of the National Negro Insurance association at its annual meeting in Philadelphia last month, has a dynamic program for the organization this coming year. Olive, a crack sales leader himself, believes selling insurance should be made attractive to the highest trained people within the race. He wants to develop a national program of sales education, to show potential salesmen the unusual possibilities in insurance work, how they can make more money and be of service to more people. His plan will be put into effect this year. —(ANI.)

professional hate groups or subversive forces were active in precipitating the rioting.

ANIMALS INVADE TOWNS AS DROUGHT GRIPS AFRICA

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (ANI)—A search for water, made scarce by a long drought which has hit Africa from the Congo to the Cape, is bringing animals out of the jungle into towns.

Last week, it was reported that a herd of 150 thirsty wild buffalo and a lone elephant approached the outskirts of this town.

Such an occurrence marked the first time in almost a century that wild animals have ventured in force near a populated area.

New KKK Head

sued an edict barring the wearing of masks by members of the Association of Georgia Klans.

The ban was invoked, he said, because "irresponsible persons have used Klan robes and masks to commit unlawful acts."

Penalty for violation of the edict by any Klans is banishment from the mystical empire of the hooded knights, he explained.

The first part of the expansion program calls for creation of new realms and appointment of dragons in several Southern states, the wizard plausibly asserted.

Using the order's membership already listed in two-thirds or 32 of the 48 states of the nation, as a base, Dr. Green is confident the Klan can spread its wings across the entire nation "to uphold the democracy of our forefathers."

Widespread Membership

The organizations of Klans in other states will be brought into the fold of the Association of Georgia Klans when the time is ripe, his imperial majesty revealed.

Present status of some of the klans in Dixie states seems to be vague, in the opinion of the new, ambitious leader. However, South Carolina and Florida will soon be given the opportunity to decide whether they should be formed into a separate realm.

Weaker units in North Carolina and Tennessee are not now ready to be formed into realms, Green believes.

The expansion of the Klan as a dominant and a powerful organization to the limits of the country is no idle dream, the redoubtable wizard said.

Civil Rights Paradox

The infusion of new life and new blood into the secret order has been inspired by President Truman's "so-called civil rights program", according to the KKK leader.

A double-edged question by an alert reporter as to how white supremacy could be established under the constitution without hypocrisy before a skeptical world and to fulfill the natural and worthy ambitions of Negro citizens to be made sub-servient to the proposed white supremacy idea, evoked only a shrug from Green.

"We don't use force and reports of whippings and clubbings by Klansmen are newspaper lies," he countered.

The imperial wizard asserted the "notorious" organization would achieve its purposes by "electing the right men to office, and keeping them under watch while in office in order to work out a program of national education."

Indiana, once one of the most fertile of Klan breeding incubators, seems not likely to become again a Klan state in view of its passage of an anti-hate law recently outlawing such organizations as the Klan, public officials, declared unanimously when informed of Green's pronouncements.

COLORED CATHOLICS CRITICIZE ROBESON

PHILADELPHIA (ANI) — A group of Negro Catholics here took a swing at Paul Robeson last week when the members of St. Ignatius Catholic church sent a pledge of loyalty to Pope Pius XII in open contradiction to a statement ascribed to the famous singer that Negroes would not fight Russia in the event of a war.

The statement, from the Catholics was presented to the Pope in the form of a hand-made, illuminated scroll. Reports have it that the Pope replied.

Teen Talk

By THE SNOOPER

Well, comrades, you know the week-end for the Snoopers was a humdinger. But that wasn't all — Monday night the Flanner House Socialites gave a dizzy party at their homefront. Everyone seemed to be having the time of his life, although some of the bums did kinda overdo it with the punch. Am I right, Charles "Hopalong Cassidy" Moore?

Lee Haywood and Raymond Twyman, two of the big shots of the Counts of Naptown, were there on the kick, playing all the babes and cool as ever.

Bobby "Ace" McCombs and Mary "Rollum" Polin seemed to be wrapped up in a dream for some reason or other. I wonder why?

Herman "Deadeye Pete" Shead and Betty "Boo" Cowherd were not feudin' and fightin' at the hop. This is news, isn't it, fellows? ... Edith Miller couldn't have been blue because of James "Be in Bed By Nine" Crutchfield, could she?

Friday night, the Snoopers drifted in on a party given by the Flanner House Sportsmen club. It had to be great! Red Bennett seemed to have taken Barbara Brown from Charles "The Lion Hearted" Workman. He brought the babe to the party, talked all sorts of mess, then escorted her home and busted a few sobs. By the way, Red, did you tell Charles that you and Mary Moore were going together?

Somebody ought to tell James "Old Timer" Hardy to quit the no-fashin style of dancing he has. You can't pull those Gabby Hayes dances any more, Lido Kid. Arthur Williams, a soldier from Camp Atterbury, was there cuttin up somethin' awful with Dorothy Brady, while talkin' much trash to all the o'her babes at the same time. Look out for him at the Casino, girls!

Charles "Worried" Barnett and Yvonne Washington went back to gether at the party. He left the two babies whom he brought, but I think he knew what he was doing, don't you agree, Yvonne?

Gene "Cool Papa" Anderson and Martha Larkins really cut a rug, and I do mean a rug — even took the floor a couple of times. Comin' up there, aren't you, Gene?

Meredith "Bridgeboy" Buckner seems to own Anna Yancey, from the way they were carryin' on. What are you gonna do about this, Charles Robinson?

Later we passed by Clarence Gaddie's and Mary Rodgers' lawn party. There wasn't too much to it, but those who were there seemed to be having a nice time.

Saturday night, as usual, the Snooper was at the Walker Casino, which was on the gone kick, as it always is. Most all of the well-known slabs and dabs were they being enticed with a real snazzy deal.

Bobby "Catman" Twyman brought Barbara Jean "Buggar Bear" Coleman to the hop, and her dance was over, it is known 'hat Martina Gillenwater's dad caught him sneakin' in the window to talk trash with her. Somebody's wrong, visiting hours are up by 2 in the morning, don't you think, Bobby?

Virginia Woodard seemed to be having a nice time with Arnell Payne back in the back. What's to it, Jim? ... James Miller was playin' the cool role with Katherine Haywood. I noticed a cat b' the name of Leonard didn't like 'his. I wonder why?

Billy "Long Ago Dead" Baker could be found any time at the dance under Loraine Garner's arms. You're cool as you can be, know, bruzzi? ... Bernice Penick had all the fellows on the hoof, and she was lookin' mighty cute for some reason. Was Wade Saterfield the reason, do you think?

The dishonorable jackrabbits' Forrest "Never Known" Eivens was there, tryin' to be great again. I feel for the poor boy, myself. By the way, I know Ozella Williams didn't appreciate his rudeness, did you, Ozella?

Beatrice Green and the Snooper were cuttin' up again, and there seemed to be much trash talked among themselves. Hey now, Beatrice! ... The Clowns were there, entertaining, as usual. Bobby McClaren, "Sp'o" Slatter, and Eugene Braines were having a wild session, dancing in the center of the hall. We enjoyed the show, boys.

Charles Moore carried Minnie Hardy home, and busted many sobs on the street. Are you afraid someone else will take her, Charles? If you are, you can stop worrying about that.

William "Skinny" Alexander has Barbara Baker in a trance, but still attempts to hold onto Dorothy Foust. I wonder why? Is he tryin' to play them both at the same time?

Arthur Bennett and Mae West aren't fooling anyone. We all know you're not going to let each other a-loose. So come on down to earth, will you? ... Dig this — James "Sad Sack" Lovell tried to sound off on the Snooper. That's really funny! Poor excuse for a writer, maybe he'll learn.

Pauline Garrett seems to have Ezra Clemons all to herself. What happened to Mary, Ezra? ... What's the deal between Susie Armistead and William "Bill" Sleets? Susie says you're bashful. Are you, Bill?

What will Arline do since Helen Green has "Tina" Mitchell back and just where does Hubert Harris fit into the picture? Is William Bell all out for Helen, too? ... Does Henry Dawson still care for Valeria Thomas, or was it just a passing fancy?

Bobby Rush is cuttin' out on Mona Whitson, talking to Robert Hornbert. Can you imagine this, a drip like him! ... There seems to be a great deal between Robert "Beat 'Em Up" Floyd and Dorothy Moore, so why doesn't Ed Barle stay out of the way? Can't the dope see he's not wanted?

Gwendol "Still Gone Crazy" Patterson has eyes for Viola "Skipper" Crawford, and likewise, she cares for him. What will this lead to when he has a car? ... Say, Jackie Paige, the Snooper held of your letter. Dig what she says to James Bennett, folks.

"Give me a chance, and I'll be like any other girl. I'm a fool, but I still praise you. Please, like me as I like you." Seems like the girl has really gone head over heels for the playboy, doesn't it, fellows?

Cornell "Long John" Willis and Robert Baker have made up. Now let's stay that way, dreamers. ... Edmonia Smithens has Sonny "Nonsensib" Martin hog-tied by 'is neck, you can believe that!

I hear Ralston "Susie Q" Evans is smoochin' back with Deleores Houchins, but what about Mary "Play 'Em All" Moore? She needs you to do the sweeping and to wash 'he dishes.

Ben Sowell is still the life of Jean Baker. Oh yes, Ben, did you know that Mary Polin had a crush on you, too? Don't answer, the wrong person may hear.

Anita "Sweetie" Woodruff and Dickie Powell have been coming along strong recently, according to the latest records. Marie Miller has also been playin' jam back with Richard. You've played, so I guess you'll pay now.

Is it true that Joe "The Fox" Brown is only hangin' around Mack Shead because of Arline Shead, his sister? If it is, you ought to be ashamed of yourself, Joe. ... Smiley Crawford is awfully bold lately. What has Minnie Hardy been puttin' into his head?

Someone ought to tell Fred "Sumpy" Rice where he stands in his lonely world. Imagine him, of the most indifferent squares of the underworld, trying to be above the rest of the fellows. Ain't that a lemon?

Ollie Garrett and Milladeen Walker are coming along fine, but I wonder if this will still exist when William "Cool Papa" Mays gets back from Chi. By the way, girls, William Bishop and Jessie McDonald will be in town soon, so watch your steps, for they are the No. 1 playboys.

Lee Walter Haywood and Andy "Candy Pandey" Anderson have been voted the No. 1 playboys of the week. Nice work, fellows, keep it up!

Billy "The Kid" Warner and Thelma Morrison are on the gone kick. At least that's the way it looks from where I sit. Will Joan Webster and Frankie Bond release their love spells over Clifford Lewis and Leroy Maxey, two varsity guards on Attucks' '43 team, so they will be able to play much football this fall? Also, what about Mary Stewart and quarterback Norman Brown?

WANTED: A good dependable girl for a lonely, but nice boy, Henry Morton. Not too popular, just well known. For information, call the Snooper.

I see Janie Napier has to go to Ruth Teeters' party to see whom to invite to hers the next time. That's so they won't be sent home before being served. By the way, Ruth, do we have to carry our ration books with us when we want refreshments at your party?

Could my eyes have been fooling me when I saw Sandra Carson with her boy friend walking her home from Ruth's party? Is he THE one, or just one of the many flames? Is it true you still play the field, Sandra?

Duke Brock, who was that you were with at Carolyn Parker's party? How did you and she ever get an invitation to that? Was she the one I saw in your '49 Ford or are you just playing the cool role?

It seems as if Freddie Cox should be a big boy now, but he still has not grown up. He's still afraid of girls, and doesn't know how to handle them like little Betty Wilkes. Bobby handles Betty Smotch like he handles all the other girls his size. That's it, Bobby, play it cool.

We dropped in on Betty Cook's lawn party and wondered what had happened to all the girls. After I heard "refreshments being served," everything got on the kick. When Lefty Johnson's turn came everybody walked away, because they all knew the refreshments would be gone when he was through!

Something new has been added to the vicinity of 23rd and Paris avenue. It's Richard Murray. I wonder why, don't you? ... Pau Barber, are you supposed to be practicing football over in Locke field, or is there some other attraction? Let us in on the deal. Jerry Hunter hopped over to Cincinnati to see the All-Star game. Say, Jerry, could you enjoy the game while daydreamin' about back home and singing to yourself "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now?"

So Hester is getting a car to ride the babes in! Or will it be full of hardknicks? Go ahead, Hester, and play it cool. Be sharp when you start to school.

Charles Lewis has been drivin' a nice Plymouth. I hear you've been to Cincinnati and Champaign Ill. Charles, what's the next stop, Marion?

No one has ever been able to get the lowdown on John Richardson. Why doesn't he come out of the dark and let the public see his babe? But then, maybe he has one of those kind of babes who ought to be kept in the dark so perhaps we shouldn't blame him too much.

Gilbert Tischner seems to think that he's just about the coolest playboy on the Avenue, and that he can get any chick in town. Possibly he hasn't heard that he just doesn't appeal to the chicks any more. Why doesn't someone tell him that the babes don't go in for the srong-arm, loud mouth type anymore?

I never would have thought that "Junebug" Taylor would cut out on Josie Trotter. What's up with kids? June must be out of his head, cutting out on a sweet little chick like Josie!

What's happening to Vickey Maxwell and Cecil Cummings? He tells me she's a cute kid, but he and Alice Morton have eyes for each other, too. Cecil's just a playboy, that's all!

MAN FATALLY SHOT IN ROW OVER INSULT

LESTER PURNELL REED
Alleged Slayer

A Brightwood man was to be heard in Municipal Court IV Thursday in connection with the fatal shooting of another man during a gun battle between the two early last Sunday. The case had been continued since Monday of his week.

Lester Purnell Reed, 31-year-old eastsider, was to appear at a hearing before Judge Alex Clark. Charged with murder, he alleged he stalked John Bledsoe, age 26, 3305 North Hawthorne Lane, and shot him to death.

The shooting, which took place at 3329 North Hawthorne Lane, followed a drinking party in which Bledsoe insulted Reed's girl, it is reported. The party was being held at 3327 North Hawthorne Lane, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Nowling.

Bledsoe's body was found riddled with seven bullet holes, lying in the yard of 3327 Hawthorne Lane by deputy sheriffs, who answered the call.

Deputy Sheriffs Elbert Racklev told the Recorder that Reed "coolly" walked up to them and handed them the .38 calibre revolver he used to shoot Bledsoe, as soon as they arrived for the investigation.

"He was as cool as a cucumber," the officers said, as he told them he had shot and killed Bledsoe. Reed told the deputies that Bledsoe had called his (Reed's) girl friend, Mrs. Callie Liggins, age 28, 3327 Downey st., a foul name.

When he asked Bledsoe about it, Reed said, the dead man pulled a knife and started towards him. Leroy Nowling stepped between the two men.

As Nowling intervened, the alleged killer continued, he ran and Bledsoe took out after him.

"He chased me all the way home," Reed stated. Reed lives at 5445 East 33rd st. He got his gun and went back to the scene of the party and found Bledsoe had a rifle, Reed went on.

"He fired a shot at me and I fired back at him three times," Reed concluded.

Though Reed said he hit his victim with only two shots, seven holes were allegedly found in the body of the dead man.

Mrs. Mary Nowling also witnessed the fracas.

The body of Bledsoe was shipped to Prospect, Tenn. Wednesday for services and burial there. King & King Funeral Home handled arrangements, services and burial, and shipped the body.

Bledsoe was born in Tennessee and lived in Indianapolis nine years.

Survivors include the father, Herman Bledsoe, Indianapolis; three brothers, Herbert Bledsoe, Bridgeport, Conn., and Richard and James Bledsoe, Indianapolis; and four sisters, Mrs. Ruby Scruggs, Holden, West Va.; Mrs. Elizabeth Pugh, Erling, West Va.; Mrs. Annie Marks, Pulaski, Tenn., and Mrs. Katie Phelps, Indianapolis.

Prisoner Gives Sheriff's Men Slip—Search On

An Eastside man, charged with kidnaping in connection with his alleged "snatch" of an 18-month-old baby several weeks ago, was still being sought by police Thursday of this week after he slipped from the custody of sheriff's deputies Tuesday.

Charles P. Hagen, age 26, 2709 Marindale ave., arrested last May on the kidnap charge, escaped from sheriff's deputies in the Public Health Center, 1140 E. Market st.

He slipped away from Deputies Lawrence Slater and Cecil Denzio as the officers took him and four other prisoners to the center for treatment. He left via a rear exit, according to reports.

Hagen had been held on the "life" penalizing charge since May 16 when he allegedly kidnapped Roland Miles, 2426 Winthrop ave.

The baby is the son of Mrs. Pearl Miles, age 19, sister of a woman with whom Hagen was supposed to be "going steady." Mrs. Alice Jackson, Mrs. Miles' sister, was shunning Hagen's affections, according to reports.

On the day of the "snatch" Hagen allegedly went to the Winthrop avenue address in search of Mrs. Jackson. When Mrs. Miles, who was pushing the baby in a buggy, refused to tell her sister's whereabouts, Hagen is reported to have snatched the baby from the buggy.

He later returned the child, unharmed.

will run for magistrate of the third district Municipal court in the November elections.

A veteran politician, he has served 12 years in the state legislature, and during the past three years he has been an assistant commonwealth's attorney. He was the state's first Negro to hold either of these positions, it is believed.

Bunche Saved UN By Ending War, Magazine Says

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ralph J. Bunche has saved the UN from collapse by his successful mediation of the war between the Israelis and the Arabs, in the opinion of members of the UN secretariat. If the fighting had not been stopped, they insist, the UN would have followed the League of Nations into oblivion.

What sort of a man is Dr. Bunche, who took over as mediator for Palestine after Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden was assassinated in Jerusalem? Henry F. and Katharine Pringle answer the questions in "The Man Who Stopped Fights," in the current Saturday Evening Post, Aug. 13.

"Dr. Bunche is too intelligent not to be fully aware that he has made a vital contribution to the status of the Negro all over the world," the Post writers say. "He can be hard-boiled, but he has plenty of patience. He has a passionate interest in the future of dependent peoples everywhere. He considered World War II not one to save democracy, which he says does not exist, but 'for men of all races."

IN RUNNING AGAIN: Benjamin J. Davis, New York councilman, has announced he will run for another term of office on the Communist ticket. Gary Teacher To Teach In England

LONDON, England — Miss Mabel Haywood of Gary, Ind., was the only Negro among 86 American teachers arriving here last week to begin teaching this fall in English schools. A science teacher at Roosevelt High School in Gary, Miss Haywood will teach in Liverpool under the exchange plan between England and the United States. A native of Beaumont, Tex., she has taught at Roosevelt school seven years. Miss Haywood is the second Roosevelt teacher to take part in the exchange program. The first was Miss Nannie Foster, kindergarten instructor, who is on her way back to the U. S. after a year in Britain.

Polio Makes Ghost City Of Muncie

MUNCIE, Ind. — Polio has made a "ghost city" of Muncie, Rev. Ford Gibson, pastor Shaffer Chapel AME Church declared ruefully this week. His church, along with all other city churches has been closed by authorities in an effort to meet the emergency raised by the spread of the current infantile paralysis epidemic. And Muncie, health officials report, has been hard hit. So much so that nearly Anderson police have set up road blocks to prevent visits by Muncie residents. Rev. Gibson, recently returned from a vacation in Minnesota and Michigan accompanied by his wife is using the interim before reopening of the churches to undergo a physical checkup and medical treatments by physicians here and in Indianapolis.

RICHMOND MOVES UP

RICHMOND (ANP) — Departing from old customs, the city of Richmond used Negroes as election clerks and judges last week at the state election held here. This marked a change from the past when even in all-Negro precincts whites counted the ballots and ruled over the voting procedures.

Young Orator Pleads For Advance In Recreation

GARY — A former winner of the Rotary Club's district and state oratorical contests returned to the Gary Rotary luncheon last week to make a fervent plea for better recreation facilities for young people here.

In order to eliminate vice and gambling, civic-minded adults should act to "give the young people a clean start, an even break and an equal chance," said Maurice Bean, 20-year-old senior at Howard University.

Bean won all the oratorical contests in sight when he was a student at Roosevelt High School here. He captured the Rotary district crown in 1945 and the state title in 1946 when he also won the state contests of the Elks, the American Legion and the House of Ruth. He was valedictorian of his high school graduating class.

After completing his course at Howard, the youthful Demosthenes plans to enter the University of Michigan law school next year.

"Reared On Sandlots"

"I was born and reared in Gary," Bean told the Rotarians. "Everything I knew until two years ago was connected with Gary. I grew up on the empty sandlots of the central district and I know about the unapproved types of recreation that entice young people."

"I would like to see Gary get ahead. Economically and industrially it is one of the nation's fastest-growing communities, but the city's cultural and social growth has not kept up with its material progress."

The public recreation facilities of Gary are "entirely inadequate," Bean charged.

Hope Fades For Truman's Civil Rights Program

WASHINGTON (ANP) — There seems to be no hope that the several phases of the Truman civil rights program will get affirmative action at this session of Congress, it was learned here last week. Supporters of the program, both in the Senate and House, have given up hope for positive action. Indicative of the frame of mind of those who supported the program was the disclosure from Rep. Adam C. Powell, Jr. (D., N. Y.), who said no attempt would be made during the present session to call up the Powell bill to establish a permanent FEPC commission.

This measure, recently approved by the house labor committee, was annually reported to the floor last Wednesday. It was too late to get it up in the house by Aug. 22 under the new procedure approved last January, designed to bypass the house rules committee. As it stands now, the bill might be called up under the procedure on Sept. 12, when Congress is likely to be in recess.

Powell, however, said that he had obtained "a firm commitment" from the lower house leadership to bring the bill to the floor next January.

The anti-poll tax bill, already passed by the house, has not been reported by any legislative committee to the Senate. However, he anti-lynching measure has been reported to the Senate by its judiciary committee and is now on its calendar. In the house, the measure is still in the judiciary committee.

Southern Democrats are poised and waiting for the anti-lynching measure to come up at which time they plan to launch a filibuster to keep it from becoming a law.

Sues Ind. Resort For Civil Rights Breach

GARY — Suits totalling $30,000 were filed by Gary residents in Porter Circuit Court last week against operators of the Lake Eliza resort.

Eight Negro employees of Goldblatts' Gary store filed suits for $10,000 each against operators of the resort, which is near Valparaiso. The complaints charge violation of the Indiana Civil Rights Law. The Goldblatts employees' annual picnic was held at Lake Eliza on July 10. According to the complaint, the Negro employees and their families were barred from the resort.

They charged that Tommie Fitzgerald, one of the owners, said the resort did not cater to colored people and permit them to use its facilities.

NAACP representatives interceded with the Goldblatts store management. The management said they were not aware that Negroes were barred when they leased the resort, according to Mrs. Edna Morris, NAACP branch president.

Settlement houses are overcrowded, understaffed and short of funds, while there are not sufficient playgrounds, he asserted.

The young speaker said that if 100 civic organizations would contribute $500 each, a sufficient fund could be raised to provide facilities that would help the situation. In order to end vice and gambling, more desirable opportunities for use of leisure time should be offered, he said, contending that the rackets would then die a natural death.

"The time has come for Gary to become an adult community, which considers the needs of its children and acts to help its children grow up into responsible citizens," Bean declared.

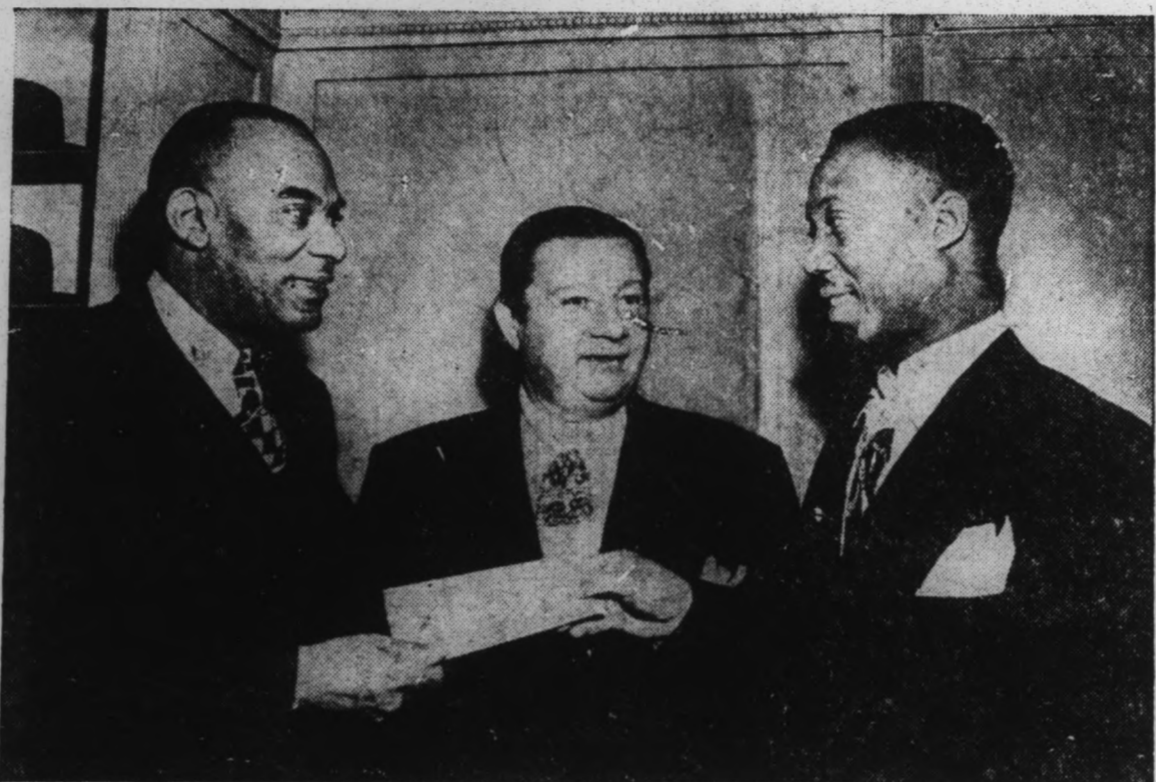

East Chicago Seeks U. S. Housing Funds

EAST CHICAGO — City officials were asked to take immediate action seeking federal funds for slum clearance and low-cost housing, following a mass meeting held last week at Tabernacle Baptist Church.

Several hundred persons, concerned over the desperate housing plight of Negro residents here, jammed the church to demand that the city obtain funds which are "now available."

A committee was chosen to petition the city council. It consists of State Representative James S. Hunter, Attorney Henry Walker, former Councilman James Dent and Rev. John E. Allen, pastor of the church.

Gary Police Told How to Cope With Racial Mob Violence

GARY — "Racial violence is seldom initiated by Negroes," local police attending a course on human relations were told by Dr. Joseph D. Lohman of the University of Chicago here last week. The course is being given under sponsorship of Mayor Eugene Sawyer and police heads to train officers in handling interracial problems efficiently and fairly.

Dr. Lohman said the "insecurity and inadequacies" of present-day society cause some white persons to become "frustrated," turning their inferiority feelings into hatred against Negroes.

"Unemployment, low wages and social disappointments all combine to make many men unreasonable and somewhat desperate," he observed.

"Constant worry over making ends meet leads to frustration and insecurity, which in turn are redirected in the form of hate and violent acts if an occasion arises for blaming and releasing our feelings upon a scapegoat minority group."

Enter The Hate-Mongers Then the professional hate-monger enters the picture, he pointed out.

"Such organizations as the Black Legion, the Columbians, Inc., and the Ku Klux Klan foster prejudice and hate by appealing to the needs of individuals who are psychologically starved because of their lack of status, or standing in the community."

"By boasting of a native-white superiority, conferring fancy titles on their membership, displaying an elaborate ritual and flashing a distinctive regalia, they appeal to the desire for status and recognition."

"Such organizations are deliberately fomenting racial tensions by exploiting the natural human hunger for a feeling of importance. The demagogue knows that it is possible to mobilize a crowd or mob in terms of these basic insecurities."

Three stages in the growth of mob violence, with police tactics to be used during each stage, were outlined by the lecturer.

Mob action usually begins with an incident which attracts and excites people, causing them to take sides, he declared. Such an incident might be a dispute between a white and Negro driver, with a crowd gathering.

"That's the place to stop violence," he said, advocating that police officers should take the parties into custody and remove them from the scene.

"Milling Process" If not nipped in the bud, mob formation then enters the second stage, which Dr. Lohman called the "milling process."

"Here one excited individual excites others until a high state of collective tension and excitement is built up," he declared.

"This creates a kind of collective hypnosis in which the individual loses his self-control and responds only to the dictates of the crowd as a whole."

"In this fact exists the immense potentiality for evil behavior which crowds often exhibit."

At this point police should break up the crowd and isolate small units of its members, Dr. Lohman said, transforming the mob into an orderly assembly.

If that cannot be accomplished, a "show of force" must be made and the most excited individuals removed from the crowd.

The final stage of mob development, Dr. Lohman said, is "social contagion." Here the crowd attracts bystanders who are ignorant of why the mob was formed in the first place. They become infected with the mob spirit and join in its excitement.

At this stage police should throw a cordon around the "infected" area, allowing individuals to leave the mob but preventing others from joining it, the speaker said. He declared that these tactics proved effective in the Detroit and Harlem race riots.

Richmond Crowd Frolics At Fair To Middle East

RICHMOND, Ind. — A fair given at Shinkle Park on Aug. 3, under sponsorship of the North Richmond Community Council, was attended by nearly 1,000 persons.

Proceeds from the fair will be used to expand recreation facilities at the park, which has been operated for the past two summers by Hall Geissler and a group of volunteer work campers from various Midwestern colleges. The park is a community playground offering supervised play for all children and adults of the North Richmond area.

Two baseball games highlighted the fair activities. The Shinkle Park Tigers, a girls' team, defeated a married woman's team 14-2. The Shinkle Park Hustlers downed a First Baptist Church crew 11-3.

Other features were a cakewalk and a squirt-gun booth. Concession stands, shooting galleries and other booths were erected for the event.

EAST CHICAGO — A grand jury investigation was demanded here last week into the death of a five-year-old girl five days after her abduction by a 51-year-old white man.

The little girl, Willstene Williams, daughter of Mr. and at St. Catherine's Hospital at St. Catherine's Hospital on July 13, five days after her criminal assault by Peter Sawchuck.

In the meantime Sawchuck had been sentenced to six months on the penal farm and fined $1,000 on charges of assault and battery. Police allegedly told the child's parents that her death had nothing to do with Sawchuck's attack.

Public pressure, however brought about the holding of an inquest, which was followed by the demands for grand jury action.

Sawchuck is an old offender, with 23 previous arrests for intoxication, indecent exposure, public indecency assault and battery and grand larceny. He was first mistakenly reported to be a "Puerto Rican."

Caught Fondling Child

The middle-aged white man was caught in the act July 8, fondling the Williams child while lying on the ground in some high weeds near the Outer Belt line railroad tracks.

On July 11 he was tried before City Judge Thomas Callahan. None of the witnesses who had accompanied the child to police headquarters, was called upon to testify. Sawchuck was convicted and sentenced on the assault and battery charges.

Meanwhile little Willstene failed to recover normally from her harrowing experience. Her mother and a neighbor said that the child became listless. She slept fitfully, frequently started violently and screaming in her sleep.

In the early morning hours of July 13, Willstene was seized with convulsions. Dr. Arthur Payne rushed her to St. Catherine's Hospital, where she died a few hours after being admitted.

Post-mortem examination revealed that she died of a brain hemorrhage caused by a blow suffered several days previously. A Mr. Williams, the father, said he was told by Otto Stumph, chief of detectives, that the child's death had no relation to Sawchuck's attack, and that the case was closed with the sentencing of Sawchuck.

Inquest Held

Pressure from aroused citizens, however, compelled the holding of an inquest. Ten witnesses appeared before Dr. Richard Callahan, deputy coroner, on Aug. 3. Continuing the inquest until Aug. 10, Dr. Callahan said:

"Evidence brought out at the first hearing convinced me that the circumstances preceding Willstene Williams' death warrant a full investigation. I have continued the inquest in order to hear everyone who may have pertinent information and to investigate all facts concerning the case."

Following the inquest, the police were said to join in recommending grand jury action.

Police negligence was charged by Attorney Henry L. Davis, retained by the NAACP to represent the Williams family.

He said evidence should have been presented at Sawchuck's trial that would have influenced Judge Callahan to continue the trial.

"I don't see how Sawchuck can fail to be brought before the grand jury for investigation and indictment on criminal charges," Attorney Davis declared.

CHURCH SOLD FOR BACK TAXES ESCAPES LOSS

EVANSVILLE The Church of the Living God, 418 S. Morton ave., has been returned to its congregation after being sold for back taxes without the congregation's knowledge.

Victor Funke, realtor, purchased the church in 1947 for $162.30 in back taxes. The congregation was unaware that it should have filed an application for tax exemption. Last week Funke gave the church back.

The state tax board permitted the county auditor to refund the taxes to him.

GARY GETS NEW HOMES

GARY — A total of $60,000 worth of new homes was authorized for the central district (inhabited by Negro people) last week by the Gary building commissioner.

The list included six one-family dwellings and a four-apartment building.

Notables Have Part in Emancipation Festival

GARY — Gov. Henry F. Schricker headed the list of notables taking part as more than 10,000 persons celebrated Emancipation Day here Sunday.

The observance included dedication of a statue of Booker T. Washington at the new Booker T. Washington Terrace, where more than 5,000 persons assembled; a mile-long parade with floats and marching groups, and a mass meeting in North Gleason Park.

Other public officials taking part in the program included Secretary of State Charles E. Fleming, Mayor Eugene H. Swartz, State Appellate Judge Donald E. Bowen of Bloomington, and City Councilman Terry Gray.

Tuskegee Chief Speaks

Dr. T. A. Derby, vice-president of Tuskegee Institute, delivered the principal address at the monument unveiling. He hailed the housing project, built by Andrew Means, Gary contractor and Tuskegee graduate, as "exemplifying all of the things that Tuskegee's founder lived and died for — courage, work, insight and love."

"This ground has been made holy by the one to whom it is dedicated — Booker T. Washington; for he stands high among all those who have hallowed our soil," Dr. Derby declared.

"This project which we dedicate today is a direct result of his teaching. All over the land, the graduates of that great institution, Tuskegee Institute, which he founded, are carrying to mankind the message of skilled labor, honest labor, labor dedicated to the service of his fellow man."

Robert R. Taylor, president of the Chicago Housing Authority, presided at the unveiling ceremony and paid tribute to Mr. Means' financial soundness. Leslie Wiener unveiled the statue and gave the veil to Mrs. Means.

Governor Schricker then headed the parade, which included many floats of distinctive design.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled at North Gleason Park, according to police, heard Judge Bowen call for "the re-establishment in our national consciousness of the principles for which our flag stands — liberty and freedom."

The Southern Indiana judge, a Republican, said there are those today who talk loudly of civil rights but who are unwilling in their public and private acts to carry out the spirit of the Emancipation Proclamation.

"True freedom cannot exist under our flag," he said, "until all government officials and leaders carry out the spirit of the Emancipation Proclamation regardless of any subsequent proclamations, regulations or laws which may be passed."

Abraham Lincoln, the judge continued, forcibly stated that no act or acts shall be done to regress any person or persons in any effort they may make for their actual freedom.

Alfred Bolden presided over the park meeting. The Kingmen Glee Club sang. Other speakers included Rev. William Lomax, Deway Bozeman, and Joseph E. Chapman, Urban League executive.

A rainstorm caused cancellation of the speech of Capt. A. J. Neely, executive secretary of the General Alumni Association of Tuskegee Institute. He was to have been the principal speaker.

Youth Day Observed

The observance was continued Monday with a Youth Day program. A pageant, "Cavalade of Gary Youth," was presented in the park.

The William A. Douglas Scholarship was awarded to a 1949 graduate of Roosevelt High School. The scholarship was named in honor of the late William A. Douglas, who for nearly 20 years sponsored the city's annual observance of Emancipation Day.

A portrait of Douglas was unveiled by Mrs. Celeste B. Johnson and presented to surviving members of his family.

The Emancipation Day program was sponsored by a committee headed by Deway Bozeman, and including Henry Johnson and Andrew Means, program co-chairmen; Alvester Samuels, financial secretary, and Robert Kelley Ketchum.

Name Pastor School Board Secretary

GARY — Rev. J. Claude Allen, an official of the CME Church, was elected secretary of the Gary Board of Education here last week.

Rev. Allen was named to the school board last March as the first Negro member in the city's 42-year-old history.

A former pastor of the Israel CME Church here, he is now executive secretary of the Department of Kingdom Extension of the CME Church, serving in a national capacity.

John W. Davies, elected president of the board, said: "I expect a harmonious year and know all the board members are dedicated to serve the highest interest of the school children of Gary."

Cooper ended up in a tie with another boy of nine each in regular time, but was first to hook the 10th fish.

NEW NORTHSIDE CIVIC LEAGUE

Announcement of the formation of a Northside Civic League in the community centering on Northwestern Avenue is welcome news. The area in question is one of the most important in the city. Its residents as a whole are enterprising, public-spirited citizens, with a lively concern for civic welfare and good government. In fact, the remarkable thing is that they have not taken such action earlier.

The first project of the league, it is declared, will be improvement of trolley service in the district. The group proposes that the Northwestern line shall link up directly with the buses running on 30th street. Also, better trolleys and more convenient schedules are to be sought.

Anyone who has occasion to ride the Northwestern line, knows it is high time that these reforms were made. It is a scandal, reeking of Birmingham or some other Deep South city, that old and broken-down trolleys are put on the Northwestern line. Meanwhile, the sleek and roomy new trolleys cruise along Central avenue so frequently that they almost bump into each other.

Patrons are jammed into the Northwestern cars like sardines, while the Central trolleys are often almost empty. Yet everybody pays the same (high) fare. We say that this discrimination in service between various neighborhoods must end.

It is reported that in forming the new civic league, Republican and Democratic political workers have joined hands in a non-partisan spirit. If this cooperation continues, all groups will stand to benefit.

Experience has shown that only when Negroes unite regardless of political lines, do the "big shots" of the political parties give them anything more than a crumb. A good example was passage of the new school law, which was brought about by unity of all our political factions. We hope the new league will continue to put the people's interests first.

ANOTHER POLICE RACIAL INCIDENT

Detective Sergeant Jacques Durham, whose colorful career has enlivened many a police reporter's beat, is once again the center of a "warm" controversy.

This time Sergeant Durham has been suspended until trial Aug. 31 on charges of failing to report an altercation with two white police officers.

Accusations and counter-accusations have obscured the facts in the dispute, but a couple of things stand out like sore thumbs, we believe.

One is the attitude reportedly adopted by Patrolman Robert Steigelmeyer and Robert Keithley toward Sergeant Durham's rank.

The white patrolmen were quoted as saying that after Sergeant Durham as their superior officer ordered them into their squad car, they called a "real" superior officer.

That little word "real" speaks volumes. It means "white."

The general public does not know, probably, that within the Indianapolis Police Department the Negro officers are effectively kept in a separate, inferior position regardless of rank.

A Negro lieutenant or sergeant is supposed to command only Negro patrolmen — not white patrolmen, except in rare cases when it is unavoidable. There are no Negro captains.

For all our boasted Hoosier democracy, the system is essentially the same as that in Atlanta, Ga.

The second remarkable point about Sergeant Durham's case is that he was suspended, for approximately five weeks, pending trial. And yet the charge of failure to report an argument does not seem such a grave one.

What a contrast with the treatment given the three white officers accused of abusing and falsely arresting prominent Negro citizens in the Mance-Stuart-Meriwether case!

In that case, the Board of Safety refused to suspend the officers for a single day, and declared that they had been punished enough "by having the matter called to their attention."

The police department appears to be not only prejudiced, but stubborn and persevering in its prejudice. It is high time for eminent civic and religious leaders to demand a clean-up of these undemocratic racial policies.

THEY WOULD BEFOUL EVEN HEAVEN

The first persons arrested under Alabama's new anti-mask law, according to news reports last week, were four Negroes charged with organizing "their own Ku Klux Klan."

Thus is illustrated once again, for all the world to see, the utter depravity of the American white South (and not only the South).

It will be recalled that the sovereign state of Alabama never took action against the KKK until the hooded terrorists attacked numerous white victims. Then the state legislature hastened to pass the anti-KKK or anti-mask law.

And even this law is immediately turned into a weapon for vile persecution of the Negro!

You may or may not believe the tale about the four Negroes having a "Ku Klux Klan of their own." On the one hand, it is possible that misguided Negroes might imitate the customs of the "master race" in Alabama.

On the other hand, the story has all the earmarks of a Dixie frameup for propaganda use. We're inclined to take it with a whole bag of salt — except the part about arresting four Negroes. We believe that part.

The point, however, is that the Southern (and Northern) race-haters don't know how to do something right even if given the chance. If they ever got to Heaven, they would immediately begin befouling the golden streets.

RENT CONTROL STILL NEEDED

The people of Indianapolis won a victory last week when the Rent Advisory Board ruled that rent controls must remain in force here.

A survey carried out by mail carriers under the board's supervision showed there were only 680 vacant dwellings here on July 18, out of the total 145,000 dwellings.

Furthermore, only 106 of these houses were for rent, while the other 288 were for sale.

And of this measly 106, only 12 remained vacant two weeks later, the mail carriers found.

These figures confirm what every tenant knows — that looking for a house to rent in Indianapolis is like looking for a needle in a haystack.

Such being the case, it is frightening to contemplate what would happen to rents if controls were lifted.

It is bad enough now, with many landlords charging sky-high rents in violation of the rules. If the controls were lifted, it is possible that rents would more than double throughout the city. And this at a time when unemployment has become a serious problem.

Of course our old friend, A. E. Wrentmore (should be Wrentless) is still around with his demand for lift the con-

Between The Lines

By Dean Gordon B. Hancock
For ANP

CARDINAL SPELLMAN AND MRS. ROOSEVELT

Cardinal Spellman's vitriolic attack on Mrs. Roosevelt for her support of the Barden Bill which would deny Federal funds to parochial schools seems utterly unwarranted. It looks as if the eminent churchman was attempting to make an example of a scapegoat of the former First Lady but to a casual observer he did not advance the cause of Catholicism in this country.

The attempt to disparage and belittle and castigate anyone for an honest expression of opinion on public policy is undemocratic and un-Christian and itself smacks of the very intolerance that is the thorn in the flesh of the current body politic. But to attempt such against Mrs. Roosevelt who has won international affection and renown for her breadth of spirit and her uncompromising tolerance for all groups, Negroes included, seems highly impolitic and specious and does not become the dignity that belongs unto a prelate of Cardinal Spellman's eminence.

Religious prejudice like race prejudice stems from ignorance, and the intolerance begotten thereof is just as religious; but neither would he shudder if instead it were a Protestant word.

Denominations don't make a difference but the souls making up these make a great difference. It is true that the Protestant branch of Christianity falls far short of the ideals and practice of Jesus Christ. But this is equally true of Catholicism, and so under the skin Protestants, Catholics and Jews are very much alike, in fact too much alike to make sensible any definite spiritual schisms among lofty-minded souls.

Mrs. Roosevelt was right in her opposition to apportioning Federal funds to parochial schools or other private institutions. There are Baptist schools and Methodist schools of a hundred denominations, and it would be just as unwise for the government to attempt to finance these as to finance an attack on the wisdom of a high churchman as when evinced by the common people. It is no wonder then that the nobles of the land are flocking to Mrs. Roosevelt's defense and it is tragically possible that the great Catholic church will lose ground in its fight in a land where Catholicism is far from the generally accepted creed.

Rivalries Not Needed
Fortunately for this writer, he can write without bias or prejudice on religious and denominational matters, for he understands too well the shallowness of the arguments that stand one creed or race in opposition to all others. The world would doubtless be better off without the racial rivalries and the specious distinctions thereof. Personally, this writer would throw no spasms if tomorrow's coming would see a Catholic world of finance the education of Catholics. When the government denies Federal funds to the Catholic schools, it does not discriminate unless it supplies funds to other denominations. The fact that stands out in majestic proportions is, this country is committed to the education of its youths and has so provided and if Catholics are willing to lay advantage of these provisions they may. But when Catholics prefer Catholic education instead of the education provided by the state and nation, then Catholics like others must be prepared to pay for it.

Not Denying Equality
So in the final analysis it is not the United States denying equal educational facilities to Catholics as citizens of this country. It is a matter of the Federal government refusing to perpetuate and propagate a certain type of religious education. It seems to this writer that wherein the Catholic church is unwilling to utilize provisions made by the government, it should be willing to provide such other facilities as may be required.

While the separation of church and state was never clear to this writer, it was nevertheless clear to the founders of this great nation and to the writers and adopters of our sacred Constitution. Cardinal Spellman's attack was in essence an attack on the wisdom and integrity of the men who gave the instrument which has been the cornerstone of one of the mightiest nations in the files of time. The Barden Bill did not deny Catholics anything but government support for Catholic education; but so are the other denominations denied support for their special types of denominational education.

President of the so-called American Home Owners' Union, Mr. Wrentmore encourages landlords to keep their houses vacant as a "protest" against controls. He is not ashamed to publicly champion the interests of profit against human beings.

The only solution to the housing situation is construction of low-cost public housing. Meanwhile, rent controls must be kept. tions thereof. Personally, this writer would throw no spasms if tomorrow's coming would see a Catholic world of finance the education of Catholics. When the government denies Federal funds to the Catholic schools, it does not discriminate unless it supplies funds to other denominations. The fact that stands out in majestic proportions is, this country is committed to the education of its youths and has so provided and if Catholics are willing to lay advantage of these provisions they may. But when Catholics prefer Catholic education instead of the education provided by the state and nation, then Catholics like others must be prepared to pay for it.

Not Denying Equality
So in the final analysis it is not the United States denying equal educational facilities to Catholics as citizens of this country. It is a matter of the Federal government refusing to perpetuate and propagate a certain type of religious education. It seems to this writer that wherein the Catholic church is unwilling to utilize provisions made by the government, it should be willing to provide such other facilities as may be required.

While the separation of church and state was never clear to this writer, it was nevertheless clear to the founders of this great nation and to the writers and adopters of our sacred Constitution. Cardinal Spellman's attack was in essence an attack on the wisdom and integrity of the men who gave the instrument which has been the cornerstone of one of the mightiest nations in the files of time. The Barden Bill did not deny Catholics anything but government support for Catholic education; but so are the other denominations denied support for their special types of denominational education.

He has neither been conquered nor subdued
His dreams did not perish when he passed by.
Let us march forward with hope renewed
The banners of his army are still flying high.

Noble singer of noble songs
Gallant crusher of many wrongs,
Our lives are brighter this day,
Because you came along this way.

I don't think our tribute to this strong soldier,
Who never wept, nor even when the battle
Was the most difficult, should be in tears.

Instead, let us dedicate our lives to finishing
The great work that he started.
And when we at last, march into that Long awaited new day, let us march.

So gallantly, that he will know
We are marching.

EDUCATION'S ROCKY ROAD

The basic issue in the controversy over Federal aid to education, from the point of view of colored people, is the question of state and local control. The Barden bill as well as the Thomas Bill would leave no control in any Federal agency that the funds be expended for elementary and secondary school purposes.

Experience has shown that colored people in the South cannot rely upon State and local officials for fair administration of a dual school system. Everywhere there are separate schools, including the District of Columbia, there are gross inequalities between the educational opportunities afforded white children and those afforded colored children.

If that were not true, the 236,142 colored children in average daily attendance in Mississippi would not be in schools where the current expenditure per classroom unit ranged from zero to $700 — to pay the teacher, to pay the janitor, to pay for supervision, books, fuel, and to buy the other things that are expected in a modern school.

In 1948-49, the highest current expenditure per classroom unit in Mississippi was $6,212, and the median, $1,233, while the lowest was $280 per classroom unit. School terms for colored children are short, teachers are relatively unprepared, and there is a lack of books and other instructional supplies.

Representative Adam C. Powell, Democrat, of New York, a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, before which Federal aid to education legislation is pending, has proposed an amendment which he believes "will take care of the parochial and also the Negro situation."

Mr. Powell proposes that the Federal funds which would make up the floor of $60 per child, provided for in the Barden Bill, be allocated to each school.

This amendment probably would make the Barden Bill more palatable to colored people, but it would in no wise reach the parochial situation nor would it tend to equalize educational opportunities between colored and white children in states where Jim Crow schools are maintained, or to equalize educational opportunities between the poorer and richer school districts within a state.

Under the formula of the Barden Bill, Federal funds would be apportioned to the States of $50 a child over 1 percent of annual income for the State; or a flat amount of $5 a child, whichever is greater. Thus, both colored children and the children attending private and parochial schools would be counted for the purpose of determining the basic allotment to a state.

After the amount to which a state would be entitled is ascertained, and Congress appropriates the funds, the Secretary of the Treasury would pay to each state the amount certified to be due by the Commissioner of Education. "Amounts so paid shall, upon payment, become funds of the state to which paid," so reads the Barden Bill.

From any viewpoint, the Barden Bill is a bad measure. Its defects cannot be remedied by amendment. The best disposition the House Education and Labor Committee can make of it is to toss it into the ineffective. He slandered Negroes and Jews and got Chief Justice to agree with him that it was alright to start a riot.

Second: One or two of the Negroes closest to the case seem to have a mind like a fascist, and a Negro with a mind like a fascist is more dangerous to society than a "yes" man or Uncle Tom. I don't know which one I should stay clear of the most completely.

Third: The meeting was called for the main purpose of eliminating segregation and prejudice, yet one member was very salty because two or three Communists were present.

I am sure it would have been better to have 500 Communists present than to have the few fascist-minded, Dixiecrat, betraying bigots that were invited.

Therefore, I ask Mrs. Jessie Jacobs, Miss Emily Stuart, Mercer Mance, Rufus Kuykendall and R. L. Brokenburr, "Are you going to let this disgrace drop and be forgotten, so that the next time, some of our good citizens may be shot and killed by some of these trigger-happy storm troopers of the Police Department?"

Postal Employees Find Loyalty Order Is Racist Movement

No group of Americans is more painfully aware of the effect of President Truman's Executive Order 9835 than the organization of Negro postal employees known as the National Alliance of Postal Employees.

The Executive Order, which was issued March 21, 1947, at the beginning of the current Red hysteria, was intended by the President as a means of removing of foreign agents and other disloyal persons from U. S. government employment. The order was to be administered by loyalty boards set up in each Federal Department.

Unfortunately, the decree allowed within each department discretionary powers which permitted the Loyalty Board of the Post Office Department to make of the Order an instrument for the racial philosophy of the members. The personnel of this Board consists of Edgar Jackson of Georgia, Chairman; Atty. Roy C. Frank of Minnesota and Hugh E. Alford of Mississippi.

This Board drew up its interpretation of the Order in a manner reminiscent of the witch hunts of Salem, Massachusetts, the Spanish Inquisition and the pogroms of the late Adolph Hitler and passed it along to the regional boards under its jurisdiction.

From then on the program seemed to be a purge based upon race, with Negroes and Jews being the targets. It was construed an act of disloyalty for Negro or Jewish employees of the Post Office to demand or imply that they would like to have their full rights as postal employees or American citizens.

For Negroes, membership in the thirty-five year old Alliance, which was organized to keep its members informed of what was going on in the Postal Service and to provide for the equal treatment of Negroes in the Service in regards to hiring, placement and advancement, was considered an act of rank disloyalty.

Active participation in the work of the NAACP or other organizations working for the elimination of crippling racial barriers was considered practically treasonable.

Discrimination in Firing
The first chance to view the workings of the Post Office Department's application of the Loyalty Order came about a year ago in Cleveland when thirty Postal employees with an average tenure of job of nineteen years were suspended and charged with being disloyal to the government of the United States.

Of these employees twenty-four were Negroes, four were Jews and the remaining two were white Gentiles known to be friendly to Negroes and Jews.

All were removed under the standard set up by the Loyalty Board. "That reasonable grounds exist for belief that the person involved is disloyal to the Government of the United States." Many were charged with holding membership in an organization held to be subversive by the Attorney General. Twenty-two of the Negroes were members of the Post Office Alliance, which had fought for better positions for Negro employees of the Cleveland Post Office.

Many were charged with reading the Daily Worker and IN FACT, of following the Communist Party line or of being members of the "Post Office Branch of the Communist Party" (apparently invented by the Board).

In no instance was the employee informed of nature of the evidence against him or of the manner in which he was alleged to have been disloyal to the Government of the United States.

While most of the charges were legal acts at the time of the alleged occurrence or were vague as to meaning, indefinite as to time and place and contained undefined terminology, the employee was required to "answer each and every charge, setting forth fully and in detail all matters which you may consider pertinent and to show cause why you should not be removed."

Denial of Rights
The National Postal Alliance immediately entered the fight to save these men and to have the Executive Order set aside as being unconstitutional and contrary to the Anglo-American judicial system. The Alliance holds that the hearings in Cleveland show that:

1. The men will NOT be faced by their accusers.

2. They have NO opportunity for a public hearing.

3. They face loss of employment after more than twenty years of satisfactory service.

4. Against accepted practice, the men are considered guilty UNLESS THEY PROVE THEMSELVES INNOCENT.

5. They CANNOT subpoena witnesses in their defense.

6. They CANNOT stand before their judges.

The Alliance is preparing to take the matter before the Supreme Court on the grounds that the Order violates the 9th and 10th Amendments; it violates the freedom of speech provision of the First Amendment; it permits the Attorney General to designate organizations as disloyal without due process of law; it places the burden of proof upon the accused; it adopts the theory of guilt by association rather than personal guilt and it intrudes upon the judicial powers of the government.

As the fight of the Alliance continues, the inquiries continue in other cities, notably St. Louis. A future column will deal with the present state of the fight.

Northwestern Wins First In Track Meet

The Northwestern track team, composed of boys and girls up to 19 years of age, finished first in the sectional competition of the 1949 City Parks Track Meet, Tuesday of this week at Shortridge High School's practice field. The northside team scored 76 points to the second place winner's 45.

The Douglas-Hill team, winners of last year's title, scored 32 points to take fourth place with Locke-field trailing in fifth with 23 points. The team from Rader-Udell playground scored only one point.

The events were run-off in two divisions, senior and junior. Boys through 17 years old and girls through 13 constituted the juniors, and boys from 17 to 19 and girls over 13 made up the senior division.

Four sectional meets were held at Washington High School, Manual, Howe High School and Shortridge.

Sectional finalists will vie August 18 on the Delavan Smith cinder path in the final meet.

The Indianapolis Star, sponsors of the meet, will award ribbons to first, second and third place winners. A team trophy will also be awarded by the newspaper. Ribbons are awarded to the sectional winners.

Purdue U. Succumbs: Negro On Grid Team

Injury Keeps Michigan Star From Grid Tilt

Gene Derricotte, great Michigan halfback, who was recently spoken of as a member of the 1949 College All-Star team which was scheduled to meet the Philadelphia Eagles on Soldiers Field, Chicago, Friday night, would not be in the game, it was announced late last week by Frank Norris, All-Star executive.

Norris said not state just why the former Wolverine would not do battle but it is conjectured that a knee injury which occurred last week is the reason.

Norris said only that the college boys still have more backs than they will need. Derricotte was replaced with Mal Sheehan, Missouri end.

Taliaferro Still In As a result of the replacing of the septa speedster, George Taliaferro, Indiana's left halfback, will be the only Negro to compete in the game. He and Derricotte were the only Negro players in the lineup.

Derricotte, who has been chased by the injury since 1944 when he went out for the freshman team at Michigan, was injured last week during his first practice with the Cleveland Browns, with whom he is signed to play during the coming season.

As a freshman, a brilliant season was cut short for him by a sprained ankle. Returning from the Army in '46, Derricotte was earning a varsity post when he was smacked with a broken nose. This pushed him into the safety position and consequently held up his running shows.

Last season a bad knee kept him out of action for most of the season. Perhaps the most stunning blow was dealt him on New Year's Day. He was literally running over everything in the East-West Classic when this knee ailment popped up again.

Cleveland coach Paul Brown indicated that Derricotte will be used on defense only, should he recover. He had planned to use him on both offense and defense but pointed out that a man has to be tough and durable to play offense in pro football.

Members of last year's squad were Lorenz Huhn, R. Griffith, B. White, S. Hill, R. Knox, Wilson Beene, Donald Hayes, P. Smith, Charles Mosely, B. Buckner, E. Ervin, W. Sweat, W. Erwin, M. Carroll, Edward Lawrence, W. Johnson, P. Overton, G. Britt, J. Daniels.

A. Perry, J. Dupee, N. Greer, B. Webb, D. Adams, O. Webb, Julius Griffith, C. Barnett, E. Davis and Buford Driver.

New players already signed include James Hester, Ben Sowell, H. Gilbert, J. Lockett, J. Robinson, W. Tyler, G. Johnson, R. Spear, C. Turner, Homer Bledsoe and F. Smith.

The club, which boasts a record of ten wins against two losses during the '48 season, began going through its tuning-up rounds last Sunday in the Northwestern Park.

After two weeks of limbering up through calisthenics and light scrimmages, the team will begin holding daily practice sessions during which it'll work out plays, practice defense and offense, and go through the other necessary paces.

For the first time in the history of athletics at Purdue University, a Negro is listed as a varsity player on a Boilermaker football squad, according to a release from the school this week which listed Herman Murray, former Crispus Attucks athlete, as a varsity tackle on its 1949 squad.

Murray, captain of Attucks' 1947 football team of which he was voted most-valuable player, made an outstanding record for himself as a freshman tackle at Purdue last year.

The 204 pound, 6 foot 1 inch sophomore was graduated from Attucks in June, 1948. He played as varsity tackle on Tiger elevens for three years and was selected to the All-City football team in '47.

Entering Purdue in September, 1948, as a science major, Murray immediately tried out for the freshman squad, and made it. He is the only Indianapolis youth listed among the 1949 varsity squad members.

While Murray is making good at Purdue one of his former teammates, Benjamin Johnson, also a '48 grad, is making the grade at Butler University.

Johnson, who graduated cum laude in the same class as Murray, was captain of Butler's '48 freshman team, playing fullback.

His outstanding play on the novice eleven has definitely earned him a place on the '49 varsity squad, it is reported.

For the most part the graduated members of the '48 Tiger varsity are seeking berths on college teams this fall.

Donald Oldham, who led city 'corers from left half during the '48 season and who made the All-City team at the same time, was off to the Wolverines at Michigan.

Thurman Washington, who directed the Tiger single wing very effectively last season, is headed for Earlham College. Doubling at quarterback and left half, Washington was scouted for the big school the same as Oldham but couldn't meet the academic requirements, lacking the necessary foreign language credits.

Clowns Rise To 2nd Place Tie In Am. Negro League Race

The team to watch in the second half in the eastern division is the Indianapolis Clowns. They have risen to a virtual second place tie with the high flying Baltimore Giants.

Improved hitting has carried the Clowns to the top after a poor first half. Despite the untimely death of Clyde Nelson, Indianapolis is still maintaining a hot pace. A list of Clowns' 300 hitters includes Len Pigg at 382, Ray Neil at 324, Sam Hairston at 316, and Reece Tatum at 316.

During most of the season all the above except Pigg have been below 300 in the swat column.

Piper Davis of the Black Barons went on a hitting spree last week to raise his batting average 17 points to pass the 400 mark again. Robert Boyd of Memphis moved up to second place with a mark of .384.

Pedro Formenthal of the Memphis Red Sox was the slugging sensation of the past week. He pounded out four home runs, including three in one game, a triple, and a double. He is now tied for the home run lead, and leads in triples. He is second in runs batted in the second in total bases.

Only man outslugging him is Willard Brown of the Monarchs who raised his average 19 points last week to .372. Brown leads the league in runs batted in, is tied for the lead in homers and doubles, and ranks first in total bases.

The appearance of Commissioner Chandler at Sunday's game marks the first time that the baseball czar will be in attendance at the big classic, which has drawn 15,000 for the inaugural game in 1933 and has grown in leaps and bounds ever since. The greatest crowd ever to watch the game was in 1943, when a record-breaking 51,723 thronged found its way into Comiskey Park, with more than 10,000 being turned away at the gates.

Advance ticket sales indicate that another 40,000 or better crowd will turn out for the 1949 edition of this sports attraction. There are still a lot of good seats left, Dr. J. B. Martin, president of the American League, reports.

Commissioner Chandler will throw out the first ball. "Presence of Mr. Chandler at the game will give added importance to the fray," said Dr. Martin. "With a lot of players now going into organized baseball, we thought it proper and fitting to invite the Commissioner to throw out the first ball."

Record Shows "It's Good to Be Lazy" If You're Don Newcombe

By JIM CUMMINGS

Who's lazy? Recently a number of press services quoted Bert Shotton, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, as saying Don Newcombe, his prize fireballer, was lazy, in fact — too lazy.

With everyone giving this statement a good airing Newcombe has said nothing in his own defense. Probably he's heard the saying "action speaks louder than words," because he is definitely acting.

The big fast ball wizard, who has become one of the Bums' most consistent winners, registered his 11th victory against three losses Monday as he strutted his best stuff into a neat four hitter and 2 to 1 score over the New York Giants on his home grounds in Flatbush.

Newcombe effectively scattered 11 hits among the Pittsburgh Pirates last Thursday in registering his 10th triumph, 11 to 3.

In Monday's game the giant right-hander had a shutout until the ninth when he was tagged for a home run by Whitey Lockman. But he took the Giants' powerhouse of Thompson, Mize and Marshall in that order to retire the side and end it all.

This was his fourth straight win and his first over the rival New York team. He struckout five and walked three.

Shotton Didn't Want Don Just before the Dodger boss, Branch Rickey, raised Newcombe from the minor ranks of Montreal, Shotton went on record as saying he didn't want the youthful moundman to make it any harder for Robinson and Campanella. He also was skeptical over whether or not the former Newark Eagles catcher was of major league calibre.

However this isn't the first time the Dodger boy has been tabbed as a lazy man.

While he was on the Montreal mound staff, Newcombe got the lashing tongue from Clay Hopper, Royals manager, it is reported.

We are not in a position to say that the managers' sayings are right or wrong but surely the whole baseball world can see that Newcombe is a first-class twirler in any league. From here he looks like a 20 game winner next season.

There's no doubt in most minds Don Newcombe, the Dodger second sacker, is the most valuable player in the National League this year. His consistent hitting and flawless fielding is the major reason Brooklyn is still at the top of the National League heap.

If he continues to hit at or even slightly below his present pace, he is a cinch to cop N. L. batting honors and in all probability will top American League sluggers as well. Tuesday he was still leading both circuits with a whopping .364.

The more than 2,000 septa Hoosiers among the 33,826 fans who saw the Dodgers take a double header from the Cincinnati Reds Sunday, saw Robinson exhibit top batting and fielding form.

The Bums' keystone sacker smacked a homer, a double and a single, batted in two runs, and stole a base as he and his partners beat the Birds 7 to 0 in the first game. He hit a single in three trips up in the second tilt.

The All-Star second baseman came back Monday and smacked his 14th homer of the season, and a single and batted in a run.

Roy Campanella, the Dodgers' ace backstop, was pulling a .266 average around and showed no signs of improvement as he failed to hit last Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

"They're both going to be alright" — This statement was made by Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, in reference to Henry Thompson and Monte Irvin, the septa Giants.

In a press conference last week, the Giant manager is quoted as saying, "Thompson has made my team. He has tightened up the infield, made Rigney a better shortstop and given me a good double-play combination."

This only proves more conclusively that every Negro going up to the majors has got to be a master of the trade. He can't be just good and sit on the bench as a substitute or a pinch-hitter. (We'll have something more to say about this next week.)

Thompson, the Giants' No. 1 second baseman, is carrying a meager .259 batting average and Irvin, who seldom sees action, is hitting at a .286 clip.

Each of the two players batted in a run last Saturday as the Giants clipped the Los Angeles Cardinals' wings, 3 to 1. Thompson got two bingles as his teammate hit once.

Paige Pitches Again Satchel Paige, probably the oldest and coolest pitcher in major league circles, got a little exercise last week and Sunday of this week. The fabulous mound master, who is used only as a reliever these days when a good full route-going hurler would be the answer to a maiden's prayer as far as Cleveland is concerned, pitched two thirds of an inning last Thursday against Washington and one and a third against the Philadelphia Athletics Sunday.

He gave up one hit to the A's after dealing a hit to Washington and Philadelphia won both games Sunday.

Larry Doby, currently swatting around .294, got two hits Sunday, playing in a double header. Both his hits came in the second game which the Indians dropped 4 to 2.

Doby struck two hits, including a double, last Saturday as the Athletics took the feather-bearers 2 to 0.

Flanner House Track Meet Shifts To Washington Hi

For the first time in its history the Annual Flanner House Track Meet will not be held at the Crispus Attucks High School Field.

Instead, this year the 12th meet, sponsored by the charitable organization and sanctioned by the Indiana AAU will be held on the regulation 440 yard track of Washington High School.

To be held Saturday, August 20, the meet will be run in two divisions — for seniors, 14 years of age and over, and juniors, boys less than 14.

Senior events will include the 100, 220, 440, 880 and mile, high and low hurdles, four field events and half-mile and mile relays.

Juniors will compete in the 50, 100, and 220-yard dashes, the 880-yard run, high jump, broad jump and half-mile relay.

Medals will be awarded to the first two places in each event and ribbons to the third, fourth and fifth place winners. Trophies will be given in each division to the winning teams.

Baseball Czar, Scouts To View Big Classic

CHICAGO, Ill. Aug. 11 (Special)—Upwards of 40,000, including Baseball Commissioner Albert B. Chandler, will see the 17th annual East-West Baseball Classic next Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14, here in Comiskey Park.

In addition to the baseball czar, a good number of major league scouts are expected to be on hand to watch the game pitting the outstanding stars of the West Division against the East Division of the Negro American League, which has been sponsoring the game ever since its inception in 1933.

The scouts will be seeking future big league timber as this classic has produced several outstanding players who eventually found themselves in organized baseball, including the major leagues.

Some of the greats who performed at one time or another in East-West competition are the ageless Satchel Paige, now with the Cleveland Indians; Larry Doby, also with the Tribe; Roy Campanella and the celebrated Jackie Robinson, both with the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Monte Irvin with the New York Giants, plus a lot of others who are now earning their spurs in the minor leagues of organized baseball.

The appearance of Commissioner Chandler at Sunday's game marks the first time that the baseball czar will be in attendance at the big classic, which has drawn 15,000 for the inaugural game in 1933 and has grown in leaps and bounds ever since. The greatest crowd ever to watch the game was in 1943, when a record-breaking 51,723 thronged found its way into Comiskey Park, with more than 10,000 being turned away at the gates.

Advance ticket sales indicate that another 40,000 or better crowd will turn out for the 1949 edition of this sports attraction. There are still a lot of good seats left, Dr. J. B. Martin, president of the American League, reports.

Commissioner Chandler will throw out the first ball. "Presence of Mr. Chandler at the game will give added importance to the fray," said Dr. Martin. "With a lot of players now going into organized baseball, we thought it proper and fitting to invite the Commissioner to throw out the first ball."

The West, piloted by Lorezo "Piper" Davis, the playing manager of the Birmingham Black Barons, will be seeking its seventh straight victory and 11th in the 18 games over the Easterns. The latter's manager is Hoss Walker of the Baltimore Elite Giants, who will have four of his own men on the team.

In addition to Baltimore, the New York Cubans, also an Eastern representative, and the Memphis Red Sox and the Black Barons, the latter two Western clubs, are sending four players each to the big classic.

On the basis of past performance, the West will have to be picked as a pre-game favorite, although both clubs are well fortified with excellent pitching and good hitters. The West has six 300-better hitters, compared to five for the East, exclusive of the pitcher.

Leading batsman is Manager Davis, who is leading the league with .385. Next best stickler is outfielder Bob Davis of the Baltimore Elite Giants. The West has also the leading home run hitter in outfielder Willard Brown, who has 11 four-round trippers to his credit at this time of writing. The Monarchs' fleet-footed gardener also has driven in the most runs, 163, to be exact and has the most total bases, 143.

With the rival managers not expected to announce their starting lineups, including opening pitchers, earlier than Friday, who will start the big game is still a matter of conjecture among the thousands of baseball followers.

Probably starting on the hill for the West will be Alonzo Perry of Birmingham, who won 10-3. He has the best mark of the five hurlers named to the West squad. And the same will probably apply to the East, which has Bob Griffith as its best pitcher. Griffith has won seven and lost only one.

Read The Story of 'Sepia' The Symbol for Purity

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles telling the story of the Negro through the finest Negro musical ever produced, "Sepia," an imaginary symbol standing for all that is pure, fine and good in the Negro people and their culture. Follow these articles on this page each week.

In a world filled with hate and distrust and at a time when the beliefs and feelings of the Negro people are under congressional inquiry there comes the refreshing story of a black ebony statue, Sepia, created in the slum districts of Indianapolis, transformed into one of the most promising musicals of the year as well as becoming the unifying symbol of the Negro people themselves. This is the story of Sepia, an imaginary symbol standing for all that is pure, fine and good in the Negro people and their culture. Conjured by a white man who has spent considerable time with the Negro people of many lands in South Africa, Portuguese East Africa, Madagascar, Panama and Abyssinia in an effort to find a subtle way of overcoming race prejudice. Giving birth perhaps to the most awe inspiring attempts at telling the story of our people as well as producing a rapid pace, visually entertaining musical program. Sepia, in my opinion, forms one of the most painless ways of telling our story, conflicts, problems and accomplishments as well as being a definite means of overcoming racial intolerance.

Already acclaimed by the bibles of show business, Variety and Billboard, as the finest Negro musical since Green Pastures, Sepia is being sought for network backing. Already many great Negro personalities are volunteering their services for this production. Among them being Lionel Hampton and his orchestra who is interested in bringing the musical to the major cities on the eastern and western seaboards in a hope of cementing interracial relationships in sections where the majority of the American population are settled.

Sepia is the symbol of the Negro people, born at the dawn of time, lulled to sleep in the shade of the Congo River, it is the story of Sepia who watched her people raise the pyramids of Egypt on their backs, comforted them during the rise and fall of both the Roman and Spanish empire, shared the sorrows of the first twenty Africans sold on the slave block at Jamestown, watched the fields of the South become fertile and rich in cotton and tobacco, sang with her people while Lincoln studied and matured, stood by and saw this nation split and divided over her people's problems and watched many of her people acclaimed to fame and contribute to mankind in many, many fields. This is the story of the Negro people set to music, told through the eyes of Sepia for the entertainment of all and with the hope that the brotherhood of man may someday be achieved through understanding of her people.

Already achieving much and overcoming many obstacles in the path of interracial relations in Indianapolis, it is my hope that this program will mature and grow to other cities where the problem is just as great.

Big Double Bill Carded for Walker Sun.

A MAN half-crazed by the incurable illness of his wife is Fredric March, principal character in "An Act of Murder," which starts Sunday at the COOL Avenue theater.

BROTHERS—Bruce Bennett, Bob Hutton and Wayne Morris as three of "The Younger Brothers" in Warner Bros.' Technicolor drama of that title, showing Sunday at your COOL Walker theater.

"Younger Brothers" and "The Big Cat" on Bill

ROY BROWN STILL CLICKS

Heading a big double bill at the Walker Sunday is "The Younger Brothers," a story of the outlaw brothers who shot their straightest—after they went straight. And none were wilder, bolder or tougher. Be sure and see this great drama of the wild and woolly West at your favorite flicker house Sunday.

Also — Gene Reynolds, former child star, makes his second screen appearance since the war in Eagle Lion's Technicolor crammed-light-with-thrills drama "The Big Cat," which is coming Sunday to the Walker Theatre.

After he returned from four year's service in the Navy, Gene enrolled at the University of California at Los Angeles where he received a degree in Economics. Then he returned to acting.

In addition to his screen work, Gene is also a well-known radio actor and has written several radio mystery scripts.

ATLANTA — Blues shouting, rhythm dispensing Roy Brown and his band have put a stop (temporarily at least) to the dropping graph of attendance and revenue on the one-night dance circuit. Financially harassed promoters, almost to a man, are hailing the new favorite of the dance lovers as the savior of the one-night circuit. The steadily declining size of crowds and revenue on the one-night circuit has been one of the more distressing developments in the recent post-war amusement depression. One-night activity has long been the bellweather of Negro show business.

"An Act of Murder" at the Avenue Sun.

Portions of the old Venice amusement park, once known as the Coney Island of the Pacific coast, come to life again in scenes with Fredric March and Florence Eldridge in Universal-International's "An Act of Murder," which is playing Sunday at the Avenue Theatre.

Among the abandoned concessions acquired by the studio for a fun-zone setting in the dramatic picture are the Tunnel of Love, the Hall of Mirrors, the Pig Slide, a merry-go-round and various smaller bits, such as baseball throwing stall, penny arcade, and grotesque decorations.

MURIAL RAHN ON COAST TO COAST TV AND RADIO SHOW

NEW YORK — Muriel Rahn, sensational operatic and concert soprano, whose pioneering efforts in the field of music won her the "Woman of the Year Award" from the National Council of Negro Women last month, will be featured on one of the top television shows of the nation Friday, August 12th, at 9 p. m. E. D. S. T. over the CBS-TV Clifton Fadiman show, "This Is Broadway."

The show has captivated the New York TV crowd because it probes into the problems of singers, actors, comedians and other artists, then tosses the grapes into the lap of a seasoned Broadway panel of judges. The program will also broadcast over the CBS radio coast-to-coast network of 167 stations.

Clifton Fadiman, whose "Information Please" radio program kept type of program on TV. The ex-peris a season or so ago, has hit the jack-pot again with the same type of program of TV. The experts on "This Is Broadway" who will comprise the panel of judges will be George Kaufman, veteran Broadway playwright with dozens of hits to his credit; Abe Burrows, sensational radio comedian; and Marie Wilson, star of "My Friend Irma" show. Among other participants on the program beside Muriel Rahn will be Ray Eberle, noted crooner; Ralph Sutton, jazz pianist; and Lee Wiley, singer.

Denies Holdup Try On Marian Anderson

NEW YORK (NNPA) — Huron Attractions, Inc., theatrical agent for singer Marian Anderson, last Wednesday denied a statement by a Broadway columnist that Miss Anderson and her secretary had been held up and robbed while driving from a concert "to the singer's Bethel, Connecticut, estate."

Branding the report false, a spokesman for Huron said Miss Anderson is vacationing with her husband in Europe and has not been in the United States since last April.

the stirring plot deals with the exploits of an Army officer in disguise as he seeks to unravel the murder of two soldiers and to break up the operations of a daring gang of bandits. Powell enacts the role of the officer and Miss Greer that of a beautiful gambling-house owner with whom he falls in love, despite his conviction that she is the master mind of the bandits. A daring scheme to hijack a board of gold stored at the nearby Army post is also involved in the plot, and Powell finds himself in increasingly dangerous situations as he searches for evidence against the criminals.

Indianapolis Citizens of Cincinnati (temporarily)

Half of this city vacated to Cincy last Sunday to see Brooklyn's Bums defeat the Reds. They went by every conceivable means of transportation: train, plane, bus, and motorcar. First big time ballgame yours truly ever witnessed but it was worth the time and money I spent, and even more. I blew into Cincy via American Airlines, accompanied by Grace Ballanger and Vera Ann Morton. Didn't take us long, just about 22 minutes . . . landed in Covington, Ky., where all the swanky gambling casinos, and call houses are; did not stay there long either. Limousined our way to the Netherlands Plaza Hotel; from there to the Kitty Kat where attractive Dorothy Quarles was having a Pink Lady with some friends, mostly from Naptown. . . . A few minutes later saw Robert Lee Williams, the Eastside politician, riding in a cab with Marion Booth. Had her mouth "poked" out because Mr. Williams objected to the cab man overcharging him (smiles). . . . Went from there to the Wien bar, the biggest pretty place I ever saw; from there to "the Hill" where the Downbeat dominates the swanky places up there . . . left there, made a whirlwind trip back to Covington and took a good look at the huge dice, and slot machines rolling unmolested on beautiful cloths; then went to Newport, where gambling splendor rivals that of Covington. . . . Jumped back and had a lemonade in the Perkins Grill where Isiah Dedmon, and Thelma Dedmon, were having chicken dinners with Otis Barnett and Thelma Porter . . . went from there to the ballgame with them.

Met Milton Siegel, the eminent barrister, who decided late to come to the game but had no tickets. . . . Talked to a policeman by the name of Carl Lasch, of District 2; nicest policeman I ever met out of town. Waited a few minutes and he came back with two box seat tickets. . . . Once inside the game I saw everybody you could think of: Romeo Thompson, the barber; Aileen Sullivan, the female equestrian, who with Ike Parker, Mrs. Ike, James and Mrs. Sharpe, canceled their Regular Sunday rides and went to the game. . . . Also there were: Arthur and Mrs. Hampton, Roy Hill and Mrs. Hill, of Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Hill went overseas with me in 1944 when the "big war" was on. Also there was a man by the name of Johnson, a native of Cincy, who also served an army hitch with me.

Funny thing about Johnson, though. When he and I were in the 212th he gave me the impression that he was rich. Said he made hundreds of dollars a week and had money to spare; said that he was living on a prominent street and had money to spare. Always made fun of me because I admitted that I lived near the railroad and the Canal. Found out that Johnson lives in one of the dirtier alleys of Cincy and drives a garbage wagon for the city, one of the smaller wagons, too. Wouldn't the boys of the Ole 212th be tickled to know that the "great Johnson" isn't rich after all? . . .

But the people we saw there from home are more important: Elizabeth Cooper, attractive, big-stocking Mae McKnight and Janie Trabue, one of the city's best dressed women; and Pete Green, the city's best dressed man. Don't get me wrong. Mr. Green and Miss Trabue were not together. They just happened to be the best in their sex so far as clothes were concerned. . . . Burton Lyles saw the game. So did Editor Marcus C. Stewart, and Mrs. Pauline Stewart, as a matter of fact the entire Recorder staff went to the game, including the Advertising Manager, Leland Bailey and wife, Mrs. Hibernia Bailey. John Tandy (no relation) was there and saw Jackie Robinson knock his home run; the McQueen Brothers also were there and in the Cotton Club I saw all the play girls I can think of and others that I can't think of. . . . Airplanes don't wait, so I had to hurry, but o. my way out I remembered that Jackie Robinson does earn his salary. I don't know much about ballgames but he was doing something that made the crowd go wild. I saw enough of Cincy, just enough to want to see it again. But I learned something too. John Gunther, the writer who said that Indianapolis was the dirtiest city in the world, either can't see very well or must never have been in Cincy. Indianapolis looks like a paradise besides 6th, 5th, and Mound streets. Ask anybody who knows.

Small talk . . . A certain detective wants to know why Lieut. George Sneed has sprouted a gray moustache. He should ask another detective how to keep them any other color but gray. . . . This is a "youth feud" between the police. . . .

Jackie P. Saunders, the Juke Box king, is installing his ranned music in many spots in and out of town lately. Has the best of equipment and is doing a land office business. At night he runs the Golden West (Sky) Club. . . .

A big-mouth-would-be politician and a small, weazly, drunken vulture, who lives off Negro racketeer blood, have combined to run the avenue. They have thrown fear into the hearts of some supposed-to-be hep characters. I don't like cowards. These two people are a joke and only a fool would fear either one of them. If they think they are really big I'll team up with Mr. Irvin Leibowitz of the Indianapolis Times and expose and destroy them within a week. Leibowitz has been urging me to do this for weeks but I held off because of my regard for some people who are friendly with these characters; but I can change my mind anytime. Try me, if you doubt me. I don't own a joint. . . .

Sarah Vaughan On Vacation

NEW YORK—Sarah Vaughan, who is currently enjoying a well-earned vacation until her opening August 26, on stage of the Earle theater in Philadelphia, will set out on an extended concert tour immediately following her engagement at the Paramount theater, which is scheduled to get under way the first or second week in October.

Tentative plans for Miss Vaughan's coming tour call for concerts in approximately 25 key cities as far west as St. Louis.

Deep River Boys Top In London

LONDON, England — The Deep River Boys, who are scoring a resounding triumph in their current engagement at the famed London Palladium, are building up an even greater following for themselves throughout the British Empire in doing a new series of programs via the British Broadcasting Corporation.

During their first week at the Palladium, the "Deeps" were invited to make a guest appearance on the popular musical variety show of England's No. 1 maestro, Bert Ambrose, and promptly won themselves a permanent spot on BBC to last for the duration of their stay here.

As the result of their tremendous success at the Palladium, the "Deeps" now have more offers of bookings in England than they can possibly accept before they return to New York in November to fulfill an engagement on stage of the Paramount theater on Broadway.

Illinois Jacquet Has New Release

NEW YORK — Illinois Jacquet, whose RCA Victor platter "Black Velvet" is spinning merrily in the jukeboxes and on disc-jockey programs as one of the nation's biggest record hits, has come forth with still another new RCA release, coupling two frantic instrumentals, "Big Foot" and "B-Yo!"

The renowned "Dynamo of the Saxophone," whose RCA Victor recording contract was just recently extended for an additional two-year period on the sales figures being achieved by his waxing of "Black Velvet," is set to wax four new sides for RCA Victor before he departs on an extended road tour late this month.

Buddy Johnson Draws 3000 Fans

GREENSBORO, N. C. — That Buddy Johnson has a mighty loyal fan following in this neck of the woods was clearly demonstrated when a crowd of almost 3000 persons waited until several minutes after midnight at the Sports Arena in this city for the arrival of Buddy, his blockbusting band and vocalists Arthur Prysock and Ella Johnson, who were delayed by a road accident while en route to their dance date.

More than two thousand persons had paid their admissions to the dance when the announcement was made at 10 P. M. that the Johnson band had been delayed but would definitely arrive to play a full four-hour session. The crowd let out a collective groan, which prompted the promoter of the dance to announce that all persons not wishing to wait for the start of the dance could stop at the box office for refunds of their admissions. The crowd showed its loyalty to the "Walk 'Em Rhythm" maestro when only seven persons stepped up for refunds while the remainder of the audience determined to stick it out until the arrival of the Johnson crew.

Member of Ravens "Gets Throat Cut"

NEW YORK — The Ravens quartette found themselves forced in two weeks of inactivity following the close of their highly successful four weeks' run at Bop City on Broadway in order for second tenor Warren Suttles to submit to a long over-due tonsilectomy.

The tall, good-looking, harmony dispenser has been bothered with periodic recurrences of a bothering throat condition. Three times during the Bop City engagement Suttles went on despite excruciating soreness.

Dinah Washington Stays With Mercury

DETROIT — Singing star Dinah Washington, currently engaged in a two-week stand at the Flame Show Bar here, became the center of an unprecedented battle royal among recording company reps eager to sign her to tempting contracts.

Cause for the frantically animated tug of war was the imminent expiration of Miss Washington's current pact with the Mercury organization.

EARL BOSTIC TOYS WITH SYMPHONY

CHICAGO — Earl Bostic, the popular band maestro and recognized kingpin of the alto sax, is contemplating something new under the musical sun — a sixteen-piece saxophone symphony orchestra for appearances in concert.

Bostic's idea calls for twelve saxophones (alto, baritone and tenor) to be supplemented by a piano, guitar, bass fiddle and drums for rhythm.

THIS BEAUTIFUL dancing chorus with lovely model in center, should prove the main attraction when Irwin C. Miller's Brown Skin Models hit the deck at the Sunset for a three-day engagement beginning Friday, August 19 and running through Sunday, August 21, with a special midnight ramble on tap Saturday, from 12 until 3 A. M. There'll be two shows nightly at 11 and 1 A. M. with dancing from 10 till 11, and 12 till 1. Advance tickets are now on sale in your neighborhood.

BILLY SHAW SETS BIG TOUR

NEW YORK — The relative merits of "boogie woogie" and "be-bop" will get a good workout in a "Battle of Music" road tour that is being set by band leader Billy Shaw of the Shaw Artists' Corp., which will pit the exciting new band of pianist Milt Buckner against trumpet ace Miles Davis' all-star "bebop" combo in dance halls and theaters throughout the country.

Bob Buckner and Davis are top ranking exponents of their particular brands of music. Buckner having proved his "boogie-woogie" ability during his seven years as featured pianist of Lionel Hampton's band while Davis is one of the brightest stars on the "bebop" horizon.

It is the feeling of the ace musician, who is appearing at the Regal theatre here, that there has been no idea yet to fully exploit the immense range and potential of the saxophone. This band would amend that oversight.

Several topflight saxists have been sound-out by Bostic and have shown an interest in cooperating with the novel experiment.

Ala. Negro Klan 1st Offenders of Anti-Mask Law

OZARK, Ala. (NNPA)—Ironically, the first persons to run afoul of Alabama's new masking law were three colored men, who were accused of setting up their own Ku Klux Klan.

The law, passed by the Alabama Legislature on June 30, makes it an offense to wear a mask or hood in public. Persons found guilty of violating its provisions are subject to a maximum fine of $500.

State Investigator C. S. Prier said the three men admitted donning sheets to scare two colored girls whom they accused of misconduct.

The three offenders were booked as Jimmie Johnson, Raymond McClelland and Robert Edward Lee Miller, all of Ozark.

Prier quoted Johnson as saying in a signed statement: "We need some kind of organization to stop these girls. We ought to whip them."

A colored minor arrested with the men was turned over to county juvenile authorities. Prier said two other men are being sought.

The investigators said the three men told him they decided to form their own Klan about July 1. They got sheets, hooked them over their heads and chased the two girls down an Ozark street the night of July 14.

Prier added the self-styled Ku Kluxers then wrote themselves threatening notes to "get out of town." Apparently, said Prier, they hoped relatives would supply traveling funds.

REMOVES COLOR BARS

The Lincoln Chiropractic College, 633 N. Pennsylvania and 4611 N. Keystone, has acted to admit Negro students and patients, it was learned this week.

The college board of directors at its July meeting voted to drop all racial restrictions on the admission of students, a board member disclosed. Similar action was taken in regard to admission of patients into the clinic operated by the college.

One Negro student had been admitted prior to the change, it was said. The directors felt, however, that the whole policy should be made democratic.

Harry K. McIlroy, D. C., is president of the board of directors, and J. N. Fifth, D. C., is president of the college.

The Christian Church

By DR. MARSHALL L. SHEPARD
For the NNPA News Service
OLD TIME RELIGION

The visit to this country of Albert Schweitzer, the greatest of modern missionaries, is a testimony in flash and blood, a living witness to the power of the Christian religion to change man's whole career. America has seen a man who is at once a great philosopher, a great musician, an eminent scientist, and a skilled physician.

The greatest living exponent of Bach, who could be earning hundreds of thousands of dollars, turned his back on the glittering pots of gold offered him and went with his family to the heart of Africa to minister for the rest of his life to the needs, both physical and spiritual, of the natives in what is usually known as "The Dark Continent."

It is hard for materialistic Americans to understand a man like this. His explanation of his own marvelous career is that he is paying a debt to these black people for all the suffering brought upon them by the exploitation and cruelties inflicted upon them by white people; and the love of Christ compels him.

How much better off this race of ours would be if Negroes of culture, refinement and high position, instead of alienating themselves from the masses and reveling in the questionable idea of being a member of a preferred group, would rather seek to identify themselves with the masses of Negroes throughout this country and seek to lift them to new high levels?

There can be no permanent progress for Negroes in this country that does not include the man farthest down. A tortoise may stick his head far out beyond his body but he will never move until he brings up his hind legs.

A few preferred Negroes may enjoy certain immunities not granted to the masses but our race will continue to be handicapped as long as there is discrimination against the masses.

It may be that Albert Schweitzer's visit to this country and his new book may serve to redeem our intellectual and social aristocrats from their life of futility to a life of constructive racial uplift.

It may be that intellectual Negroes—the preferred few—need a new birth of "old time religion."

N. Y. Puerto Ricans
Decide Their Color

NEW YORK (NNPA)—The New York City Health Department said last Wednesday that a Puerto Rican is white if he says so and colored if he says he is colored.

The department was asked whether it carried all Puerto Ricans as white in its statistics. A spokesman for the agency said the department simply asks the Puerto Rican whether he is white or colored and accepts what he says as true. He added the great majority of Puerto Ricans classify themselves as white.

The question came up when a colored couple sought to adopt a Puerto Rican baby. Health records listed the mother as white, and when this was learned, the Welfare Department is reported to have blocked the adoption.

In order to have the baby adopted, the Puerto Rican mother is said to have changed her color on the records from "white" to "black" and the adoption was successfully carried through.

The Health Department official said colored families are not permitted to adopt white babies.

Nat. Baptists Plan
Interracial Revivals

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (ANP)—Action by the National Baptist Convention, U. S. A., Inc., was begun last week on the planned nationwide simultaneous revival meetings of Negro and white Baptists to be held in 1950 and 1951.

The joint program has been endorsed by the National Baptist Convention, Inc. and the Southern Baptist Convention. First revival sessions are to be held in states west of the Mississippi river April 9-23, 1950, and in states east of the Mississippi, March 25-April 9, 1951.

During the western revival the Baptists expect to use ministers and evangelists from the east, and the east is expected to reverse the process the following year.

E. W. Perry, director general of the program for the National Baptists, has issued his first call for organization of the programs on local levels.

State Taking Care Of Ex-52-20 Vets

Indiana's unemployment compensation offices this week took over where the "52-20 Club" left off, so far as 8,000 Hoosier veterans are concerned.

The state paid the first unemployment checks to those eligible veterans who had made application. The checks average $17 weekly, as compared with $20 under the "52-20" program.

The Federal Readjustment Act expired July 31, bringing the "52-20" payments to an end throughout the U. S. Indiana had 21,500 veterans under the program, but only a third of them made the switch to state unemployment rolls.

The state's payments have nothing to do with veterans as such. They are straight unemployment compensation checks. To be eligible the veteran or non-veteran must have worked for an employer covered by the law.

Veterans and others desiring unemployment compensation should register at an office of the Indiana Employment Security Division. The Indianapolis office is at 257 West Washington st.

Each applicant is interviewed for work and if a job is not found for him, he is entitled to the compensation—providing he has worked for a covered employer. To give the veteran extra assistance, a veterans' representative is stationed at the office.

Bonus Filings Lag
Meanwhile, only about one-tenth of Indiana's 400,000 veterans had filed applications for the bonus to be paid by this state on some far distant tomorrow.

The former servicemen have until Jan. 1, 1951 to file applications. In Indianapolis, the veteran can take his original discharge papers to the American Red Cross office in the World War Memorial, 341 N. Meridian st., and obtain help in filing.

Asked when bonus payment will begin, Bernard Walsh, executive secretary to the Director of Veterans' Affairs, replied:

"It will begin when the money to pay the bonus has all been collected. It might be five years or it might be ten."

GOP Leaders Move
To Oust Washington

NEW YORK (NNPA)—An authoritative source disclosed here last Thursday that a group of colored Republicans has held a meeting to initiate a move to oust Valeris Washington, Chicago, as assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee and replace him with Sidney Redmond, a St. Louis attorney, or some one else acceptable to the group.

It could not be learned who attended the meeting here, but it was reported that Joseph V. Baker, Philadelphia newspaper man, and Harold Burton, GOP leader in Harlem, played prominent roles at the meeting.

It was predicted that as a result of the selection of Guy G. Gabrielson, of New Jersey, as the new chairman of the Republican National Committee, to succeed Representative Hugh D. Scott, Mr. Washington would likely be replaced.

At the meeting of the committee in Washington last Thursday, Mr. Scott was supported by the forces of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, and Mr. Gabrielson by the forces of Senator Robert A. Taft, of Ohio.

Mr. Washington is an employee of the committee. He was selected for his present job by Carroll Reece, of Tennessee, former chairman of the committee, and was retained by Mr. Scott after he succeeded Mr. Reece. The Baker-Burton group, which now seeks to have him ousted, is said to have originally favored his appointment.

Police Restore Peace In Chicago Violence Area

CHICAGO (ANP) — Peace reigned in the heretofore turbulent Park Manor area this week, but police protection for the Negro family is still being maintained.
The Chicago Mayor's Commission on Human Relations announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Johnson, whose home was attacked by white hoodlums and neighbors when they moved into the former restrictive covenant area, are safe, and have been the victims of no further uprisings.

Despite the apparent peace in the neighborhood, Thomas B.
Wright, executive secretary of the commission, warned that certain radical elements still could cause trouble if allowed to gain sway.
He warned:

"Action and propaganda by extremists in this situation are a continuing danger. Meetings of people from the Park Manor community are being held in which the police are being condemned for protecting the Johnson home.
The people want the police to leave so they can continue their un-American lawless and dangerous attacks on the property and persons of the Johnsons."

"Other extremists are distributing leaflets and holding meetings condemning the police for 'lack of action.' These groups are fabricating stories designed only to inflame and keep the disturbance going."

"The action of both of these groups is a threat to the security of the Johnsons and the city as a whole and the commission calls upon all responsible individuals and groups to refuse to give aid and encouragement to their activities."

Some 25 persons have been arrested in this case and will come to trial immediately, Wright said. Most of these are charged with violating the city's anti-riot ordinance passed last year after the Furness riots here.

The law declares such action a "clear and present danger to the security of the city and punishable by law."

Speaking of the police accomplishments in this disturbance Augustine J. Bowe, chairman of the commission, said:

"Since last Wednesday night the whole action of the police has reached the level of efficiency of which the citizens of Chicago can be proud."

Throughout the case the commission has worked with a group of 50 local civic groups throughout the Chicago Council against Racial and Religious Discrimination.
Among these groups are the NAACP, the Chicago Urban League, the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, the American Brotherhood, the Catholic Interracial council, and others.

Rumor Marshall, NAACP Attorney Urged For Federal Judgeship

WASHINGTON, D. C. (NNPA)—
Reports were being circulated here and in New York City Friday that Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the NAACP, would be appointed to one of the twenty-seven newly created judgeships—either on the United States Circuit Court of Appeals or a Federal district court.

None of these reports could be confirmed. President Truman only signed the bill creating the additional judgeships last Thursday and the President invariably follows the practice of not disclosing who is under consideration for any appointment until he is ready to make it.

Inasmuch as Attorney General
Tom Clark is likely to be confirmed to succeed the late Justice Frank Murphy on the United States Supreme Court, he may leave to his successor, Senator E. Howard Mc-Grath, of Rhode Island, the making of recommendations to fill the newly created judgeships.

It is probable that the appointment of Mr. Marshall to one of them will be urged, if it has not been already urged upon the Justice Department and White House.
Appointment of colored judges in the District of Columbia and in federal district courts in New York City and Philadelphia will also be strongly urged.

Illinois Ends Bias In National Guard

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (ANP)—
Gov. Adlai Stevenson last week signed a bill opening all divisions in the Illinois National Guard to all citizens regardless of race, creed, or color.

By making this policy law,
Illinois becomes the fourth state to pass such legislation this year. Other states with such laws are Connecticut,
New York, and Wisconsin.

Rep. Charles Jenkins of Chicago, one of the assembly's four Negro members, introduced the bill to the state legislature May 5. The law was designed to eliminate the practice of various guard units of refusing Negro recruits.
Only one all Negro unit, the 178th Central Postal Directory, is attached to the state guard.

In the past Negroes desiring to join other units could not get in.
